CROP PRICE SUPPORTS UP IN NEXT YEAR

The federal government has increased price supports in 1963 for corn, barley, grain sorghum, oats and rye, Myles Starnes, chairman of the Adams County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced today.

Starnes said the decision to increase support prices above figures announced last month was made to carry out the administration's program of increasing farm income, make further progress in balancing feed grain supplies and reduce program costs by pulling down government stocks.

By increasing loan rates and paying acreage diversion payments farm income will be protected while at the same time livestock expansion, particularly of hogs and poultry, will be discouraged, since the grains owned by the government cannot be sold at prices less than the 1963 loan rate plus carrying charges, Starnes said.

NO FIGURES YET

While the county has not been supplied as yet with the actual price support for the grains in the county, Starnes said the new national support price average of $1.25 per bushel for corn will probably, if the ratio of prior years is followed, mean a base of $1.32 or $1.34 in Adams County. The national average price support for barley is now 96 cents, grain sorghum $2, oats 65 cents and rye $1.07.

The increase in the corn, barley and grain sorghum support is brought about by increases in the amount loaned and a payment per bushel for diverting acreage from the grain production. Thus the price support for corn is based, nationally, on a loan of

BURGLAR HAS CUT ON HAND

Borough and state police today said they are searching for a burglar who suffered a bad cut, probably of the hand, in taking part in two burglaries early Saturday morning.

Police said quantities of blood were found on the smashed window of a cigarette machine at the Gettysburg Beverage Co., Lincolnway East, Saturday morning when a burglary there was investigated. Splattered blood was to be found on beer cases, etc. through the building.

Blood was also found at the Dave Oyer Motors Garage, York St., from which the car of Carl McCans was stolen. Blood was also found in the McCans car when it was found wrecked just south of town early Saturday morning.

A bag found at the Oyer garage which apparently came from the beverage company also helped link the crimes, police said.

Police had originally decided to announce the fact Monday that the hand of one of the burglars had been cut, but then learned of a suspect who was then out of town and who had a cut hand. Unwilling to warn off a possible suspect, police withheld the information until after the suspect had been questioned.

MANY FORGET FLOWERS ARE GOOD GIFTS

Among the many things so many people often forget at a time like this are little extras that make a holiday a bit more gala!

For instance, flowers.

A survey of local florists reveals that red and white carnations continue to be the most sought-after cut flowers for the holidays. They are beautiful and practical and will last through the 12 days of the holiday season with a minimum of attention.

Red roses are the standby for that extra-special message for Mr. and Mrs. and florists report excellent quality this year.

Poinsettias still lead the field in Christmas potted plants, with begonias, cyclamens, mums and azaleas gaining in popularity. Potted green plants are highly acceptable house gifts and provide excellent conversation pieces or the perfect touch for a dull corner.

VARIETY OF GIFTS

The four local greenhouses report a wide selection of Christmas arrangements in fresh and polyethylene materials. One florist uses western pines in these special arrangements, while others make excellent use of local greens and figurines in gift arrangements.

The price ranges in centerpieces are flexible and depend upon the size and type of gift container. They start at $1.50 and continue to almost any price. Foliage plants that live through-out the year are priced from $3 up.

Florists in this area will deliver through late Christmas Eve and urge that orders be placed as early as possible.

Little Summit Talks Extended Another Day

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—An overload of nuclear strategy problems centering about the British-American wrangle over the Skybolt missile has forced President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to extend their little summit meeting for an additional day.

The two leaders were reported to have "some prospect of a compromise which will satisfy both sides" in the missile dispute. Their spokesmen said there definitely was no deadlock. But the spokesmen said the original two-day conference timetable had not proved sufficient for discussion of the Skybolt controversy, problems revolving about it and the whole spectrum of cold war issues.

JFK LEAVES FRIDAY

Kennedy and Macmillan added morning and afternoon sessions Friday to their schedule. The President planned to leave about 5 p.m. Friday for Palm Beach. White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said a communiqué will be issued after the final session.

The reason for prolonging the conference, Salinger said, was "not just the Skybolt, but it is all of the NATO defense matters as well."

"There is no question that we are making good progress," Salinger said. "The agenda was just too great to be handled in two days."

Still to be discussed were such cold war matters as the aftermath of the Cuban crisis, the Chinese-Indian conflict, Moscow's ideological battle with the Red Chinese and the variety of puzzles it presents.

NAGGING PROBLEM

Nuclear problems, Skybolt and the prospects of a new Soviet-sparked crisis in the Congo loomed up the two leaders' time Wednesday. The most nagging question was Britain's resistance to U.S. plans to scrap Skybolt, the American missile which Britain planned to use as its chief independent nuclear weapon.

Although a compromise was reported in prospect, this in itself generated a maze of other complicated problems involving the whole Western defense posture.

Kennedy and Macmillan talked for four and a half hours at scheduled sessions Wednesday and also through a "working lunch."

The annual Christmas party for members of St. John's United Church of Christ at McKnightstown will be held in the social room of the church on Friday at 7 p.m.

The narrator for the program will be Miss Darlene Adelsberger who is a member of the Junior High Class.

The prelude will be two duets for organ and piano, "Christmas Fantasy," by Wilson and "Star of the East" by Kennedy. At the offertory Deborah MacPhail will play a clarinet solo, "What Child Is This?"

The Christmas offering for the Hoffman Children's Home will be received.

Firemen Called On 110th Alarm

Gettysburg firemen were called Wednesday evening to the Howard Johnson Restaurant, Steinwehr Ave., but the fire was out by the time they arrived.

Barton Hoppe, manager of the restaurant, credited Assistant Manager Carey McSherry with preventing the fire from causing damage. The fire started in filters in the ventilating system, Hoppe said, and as soon as the flames were seen McSherry quickly closed all vents and smothered the blaze as quickly as it started.

The fire was the 110th this year for the firemen and marked the eighth consecutive day on which the local firemen have responded to fire alarms.

With the rapid expansion of church camping many areas of the church patterned their camp programs after Nawakwa. The camp is now owned and operated by the Central Pennsylvania Synod. Each season approximately 3,000 campers and 600 leaders are in attendance. The camp property is evaluated at $250,000 and includes separate facilities for junior campers and those of intermediate and senior age. Cabins, faculty and administration buildings, classrooms and assembly hall, a library, craft buildings and dining halls are among the buildings.

At present work is underway to winterize several buildings and provide for year-round camping for congregational and synodical groups. To be developed are training programs for camp leaders and programs to relate the camper's experience to his home and congregational situation.

The reason for prolonging the conference, Salinger said, was "not just the Skybolt, but it is all of the NATO defense matters as well."

"There is no question that we are making good progress," Salinger said. "The agenda was just too great to be handled in two days."

Still to be discussed were such cold war matters as the aftermath of the Cuban crisis, the Chinese-Indian conflict, Moscow's ideological battle with the Red Chinese and the variety of puzzles it presents.

NAGGING PROBLEM

Nuclear problems, Skybolt and the prospects of a new Soviet-sparked crisis in the Congo gobbled up the two leaders' time Wednesday. The most nagging question was Britain's resistance to U.S. plans to scrap Skybolt, the American missile which Britain planned to use as its chief independent nuclear weapon.

Although a compromise was reported in prospect, this in itself generated a maze of other complicated problems involving the whole Western defense posture.

Kennedy and Macmillan talked for four and a half hours at scheduled sessions Wednesday and also through a "working lunch."

Firemen Called On 110th Alarm

Gettysburg firemen were called Wednesday evening to the Howard Johnson Restaurant, Steinhilber Ave., but the fire was out by the time they arrived.

Barton Hoppe, manager of the restaurant, credited Assistant Manager Carey McSherry with preventing the fire from causing damage. The fire started in filters in the ventilating system, Hoppe said, and as soon as the flames were seen McSherry quickly closed all vents and smothered the blaze as quickly as it started.

The fire was the 110th year for the firemen and marked the eighth consecutive day on which the local firemen have responded to fire alarms.

R. G. Zeigler New Head Of Camp Nawakwa

Robert G. Zeigler, assistant professor of health and physical education at Bloomsburg State College, has been named director of Camp Nawakwa, Arendtsville. It was announced today by Ira C. Sassaman, director of parish education in the Central Pennsylvania Synod, Lutheran Church in America. He succeeds the Rev. John S. Bishop, associate pastor of St. James Lutheran Church, who served from 1956 until the close of the 1962 camping season.

Zeigler is a native of New Cumberland and holds degrees from West Chester State College and Pennsylvania State University. Before going to Bloomsburg in 1960 he served as instructor in health and physical education at Susquehanna High School, Glen Rock. He served in the United States Navy from 1951-1955. He was program director at Camp Juniata, Reedsville, during the summers of 1961-62, and has been active in congregational affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Zeigler and their three children will reside in Adams County area. The new director will begin his work with Camp Nawakwa next June 1.

YEAR-ROUND CAMP

Camp Nawakwa was founded in 1929 as a Leadership Training Camp of the Board of Parish Education of the United Lutheran Church in America. With the rapid expansion of church camping many areas of the church patterned their camp programs after Nawakwa. The camp is now owned and operated by the Central Pennsylvania Synod. Each season approximately 3,000 campers and 600 leaders are in attendance. The camp property is evaluated at $250,000 and includes separate facilities for junior campers and those of intermediate and senior age. Cabins, faculty and administration buildings, classrooms and assembly hall, a library, craft buildings and dining halls are among the buildings.

At present work is underway to winterize several buildings and provide for year-round camping for congregational and synodical groups. To be developed are training programs for camp leaders and programs to relate the camper's experience to his home and congregational situation.

DUE FOR PHYSICAL

The Adams County draft board office announced today that it will call one man for a final physical examination on January 16. Earlier this week the board was notified it would not be asked to call any men for induction next month.

Injured Countian Improved Today

The condition of Orin R. Galusha, 79, Aspers R. 1 farmer who was injured Wednesday when he was run over by a compicker, is satisfactory today, according to reports from Warner Hospital where he was admitted with lacerations of the face, a puncture of the right lung and fractures of the right ribs and arm.

He told doctors that he had stopped the tractor to make an adjustment to the picker when the vehicle began moving, pulling the picker over him. He was able to walk to the nearby home of Fred Bodenberger, who called the Biglerville ambulance to remove him to the hospital.

Classic Christmas stories include "The Boy Who Didn't Believe" and an article by Clark Kinnaird on the creation of Santa Claus by Washington Irving and Clement Clarke Moore.

It was Washington Irving who exerted international influence on the establishment of Christmas customs and symbols long before Dickens and Clement C. Moore wrote their famous Yuletide works. The article is entitled "Who Was Santa Claus' First Press Agent?"

PLAN TO MOVE ADAMS OFFICES EARLY IN JAN.

Moving day is scheduled for early next year for the Adams County Agricultural Extension Association and the county Child Welfare Services.

At meetings of representatives of the county agents and the Child Welfare Offices with the county commissioners at their meeting Wednesday in the courthouse, it was decided that the Agricultural Extension Association will be given the offices formerly occupied by Attorney Charles W. Wolf and Attorney Oscar F. Spicer in the first floor of the Topper building while the Child Welfare Services will move into the second floor offices in the Topper building, vacated by Attorney Donald G. Oyer.

The attorneys have moved to the former Deatrick building across Baltimore St. from the Topper building.

WILL REDECORATE

The commissioners agreed to paint interiors of the offices and install various facilities prior to the moving. When the work is completed, the county extension office will be in one suite for the first time in months. At present the secretaries are in one of the rooms on the first floor of the courthouse where the extension association had been located for some time. County Agent Frank Zettie and Home Economist Mrs. Helen Tunison have offices in the basement of the courthouse, and Associate County Agent Duane Duncan, Assistant Joseph Lutz and other extension officials are on the second floor of the Topper building.

When the moving is completed, all of the extension offices will be in the one suite of offices, and a room in the basement under that office will be used for the soil testing service of the county extension office.

The Child Welfare office at present is in a small two-room area at the rear of the second floor of the Topper building.

The commissioners Wednesday gave approval for the case worker of the County Child Welfare Services, Rev. James J. Lesher, to attend a series of 12 weekly seminar meetings on child welfare work at Hagerstown starting in January.

JFK REBUKES NATO ALLIES IN RED FIGHT

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy, in a sober and coldly realistic look at the world, paints no rosy picture about the days ahead.

REBUKED ALLIES

1. He gave American allies in Europe an almost brutal rebuke for not doing their share against communism.

2. He threw cold water on any summit meeting soon with Premier Khrushchev and on any idea it would do good if held soon.

3. He told those who think this country has borne too much of the world's burden too long: "We can't lay it down . . . in this century."

4. He expects about as much tough going with Congress in 1963 as he had in 1962. In this year's election Democrats picked up four Senate seats, the Republicans two House seats.

5. He indicated none of the optimism which swept over some people here after Russia's back-down on Cuba. They seemed to see or sense big changes coming.

NATO TROOPS WEAK

The Allied forces in NATO are supposed to be their first line of defense against a Communist attack. The American allies have been notoriously deficient in supplying their share of troops.

But this has generally been justified by the American government, apparently for fear of offending the West Europeans. The United States also has been shouldering the big bulk of aid to backward countries.

Kennedy pointed out the United States has six divisions in NATO, "about a fourth of all the divisions on the Western front . . . They are the best equipped. They can fight tomorrow, which is not true of most of the other units."

CARRYING SPACE PROGRAM

"So we are doing our part there. And we are also providing the largest naval force in the world. We are also providing the nuclear force in the world, and we are also carrying out the major space program for the free world, as well as carrying the whole burden in South Viet Nam."

He said the United States is more than doing its part and "we hope Western Europe will make a greater effort on its own, both in developing conventional forces and in assistance to the underdeveloped world."

This is as blunt as any president has talked to the Allies in public. Kennedy sounded like a man fed up with listening to excuses.

Last week Khrushchev made a fairly mild speech on Russian-American relations. Kennedy referred to this speech to say "we are better off with Khrushchev than with the (Red) Chinese."

SEES NO RED CHANGE

But if anyone thought this meant Kennedy saw a new era coming, he quickly provided the disillusionment with this single sentence: "But Mr Khrushchev does not wish us well, unfortunately."

And he added: "I don't think we are about to see a whole change in Communist policy . . . 'Until we see some breakthrough in some one area I don't see there is much advantage in Mr. Khrushchev and I meeting, even though we have been in communication . . . I don't think there is a need for us to meet now. I think he probably feels the same way.'"

RUSSIA BUILDS SCIENCE CITY

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Sen. William Benton of Connecticut back from a trip to the Soviet Union, reports the Soviets are building a vast new "science city" deep in Siberia. He calls it "one of the most extraordinary scientific centers in the world."

Writing in the current issue of the Saturday Evening Post, Benton said the center, with 16 separate scientific institutes and designed to house 50,000 research workers, "is a striking symbol of the Soviet intellectual challenge to the West."

He said the center is the first of several which the Soviet Union plans to build across Siberia. He said it could be matched in this country only if the theoretical research departments of several universities were combined with research divisions of several industrial giants.

Benton, publisher of Encyclopedia Britannica, said he was the first American to see the new center in operation.

SMITH REFUSES COMPROMISE IN RULES SEATING

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP) — Talk of a compromise in the threatened liberal-conservative fight over the House Rules Committee apparently has fallen on deaf ears.

Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., chairman of the committee and leaders of conservative Democrats, said he was not "bargaining" in his position that the committee membership return to 12 as scheduled next month.

And President Kennedy said Monday night that if the committee does revert to 12 members the administration's program "would be emasculated."

Smith led the fight against enlargement of the committee to 15 members in January 1961. He lost by a 217-212 vote to a liberal group led by the late Sam Rayburn of Texas. The increase, designed to give committee liberals an edge of 8 to 7, was for a two-year period only. Prior to 1961, the committee was dominated by a conservative group of four Republicans and two Democrats.

HOUSE TO FIGHT

House leaders have said they will renew the fight next month, when the new House convenes, to enlarge the committee. They claim they have enough votes to win, but their claims are disputed. They have suggested a "compromise" that would restore the membership to 15 but not clip its powers as some liberals have suggested.

Kennedy gave the House leaders strong backing Monday night in his nationally televised review of his first two years in the White House.

HURTS PROGRAM

"I hope that the Rules Committee is kept at its present number, because we can't function if it isn't. We are through if we lose — if they try to change the rules. Nothing controversial in that case would come to the floor of the Congress. Our whole program in my opinion would be emasculated."

The committee controls the flow of legislation to the House floor and often has bottled up legislation its members have felt was too liberal. Much of the legislation expected to be proposed by Kennedy to the new Congress is in the liberal category and may face tough sledding in the Rules Committee.

The value of the finished product included $43,627,000 described as the "value added by manufacture."

MISSILE FAILS 6 TIMES BUT FUTURE BRIGHT

WASHINGTON (AP)—The A3, an advanced model of the Polaris submarine-launched missile has suffered six consecutive test failures but the Navy said its future prospects are excellent.

The A3, Polaris is designed to carry a nuclear warhead 2,875 miles after being fired from a submerged submarine. This is more than 1,000 miles beyond the range of models now in the tubes of U.S. missile-firing subs on patrol in the North Atlantic.

The most recent failure came on Dec. 6 when the missile shot out of control and was destroyed intentionally by a range safety officer at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

All six tests were launched from land pads. The Navy said the failures resulted from a different cause each time.

"In each case, the cause has been identified and rectified and has not recurred," the Navy said. "There is no single, big problem but a few small unrelated problems."

The Polaris is a two-stage ballistic missile powered by solid-fuel rocket motors and guided by a self-contained system which automatically corrects course.

The Polaris carries a nuclear warhead with the explosive equivalent to about 500,000 tons of TNT.

The A3 model is scheduled to become combat ready by mid-1964. The Navy said the test failures have not changed the target date.

PUSH BUTTON PHONES NEAR

NEW YORK (AP)—The era of push-button telephone moved a little closer Tuesday.

The Chardon Telephone Co. of Chardon, Ohio, put into service its first push-button model and offered others to subscribers in the northern Ohio community outside Cleveland.

The instrument, manufactured by Stromberg-Carlson Division of General Dynamics, has 10 push buttons on its face in place of the customary dial—three rows of three buttons each and a single operator button centered below.

Push-button phones, more accurately called "touch tone" dialing, have been under test by various U.S. telephone companies and equipment manufacturers for some years.

The Bell System has been market testing them in Findlay, Ohio, since November 1960 and in Greensburg, Pa., since February 1961. Some 2,200 push-button phones are in service in these communities.

The extensive cost of the new type set, which must be used with electronic controls at the telephone exchange, has been the main reason holding back general introduction of the new type phone, engineers say.

BIDDEFORD, Maine (AP) — This staunchly Democratic textile city Monday night elected its first Republican mayor in 67 years.

William W. Pomerleau received 4,535 votes against 2,848 for Mayor Clement H. Deschambault in a surprise upset.

Hamilton Smirk Pegged Counterfeit

LEBANON, Pa. (AP) — There seemed to be a smirk on the face of Alexander Hamilton on a $10 bill.

So a clerk in a variety store here called the police Monday.

"One of the poorest counterfeiting jobs in circulation," was the judgment of police Lt. John Feather.

In addition to the smirk on Hamilton's face, Feather said, the bill was printed on cheap paper with faded green ink.

It also contained a spelling error. On the upper left hand corner, in fine print, the bill read it was redeemable at the "United States Treasury, op (sic) at any Federal Reserve bank."

At least four of the bogus bills had been passed in Lebanon since Saturday.

KAISER STEEL DEVISES PLAN TO TRAIN MEN

FONTANA, Calif. (AP) — Kaiser Steel Corp. and the United Steelworkers have unveiled a unique new labor agreement designed to ease the pinch of automation.

The plan, announced Monday, was developed in three years of meetings by a special, nine-man committee.

The agreement provides for re-training employees who lose their jobs because of automation.

And, as production costs per item decrease, worker pay checks will get larger. So also will tax payments to the government and, of course, company profits. This portion of the pact is called a "cost savings" plan.

The agreement is subject to worker approval, but David J. McDonald, president of the AFL-CIO United Steelworkers of America, predicted at the joint news conference here Monday that it will pass handily.

The election probably will be held in January, he added. Affected will be all the 7,000 Kaiser workers here.

The pact includes a pledge that employees will receive at least the wage level of the steel industry. "There has to be a floor," said a company spokesman, "and it will be the Big Steel floor. But we never expect it to be considered because this plan will provide a higher income than the minimum."

McDonald called the agreement "a great step forward toward industry peace." He declined to say whether the plan will be pushed for adoption elsewhere.

The contract is to be four years in effect and subject to annual revision and review.

The cost savings plan works like this: The year 1961 was selected as a base to determine the cost of labor and material for each ton of finished steel.

As technology increases output, unit costs are expected to decrease. It is this savings which will go into the special fund for monthly distribution. The employees will get 32.5 per cent of the total.

Officials pointed out that the plan is different from most incentive and profit-sharing plans because it is based on production costs instead of on an individual employee's output.

The spokesmen would make no estimate of the actual worker benefits possible through the agreement.

SPORTSMEN ELECT SPENCE

Adams County Clerk of Courts Clark E. Spence has been re-elected president of the Adams County Fish and Game Association, the organization announced today.

Election of new officers took place at a meeting Friday evening. Other officers re-elected were William Howe, Orrtanna R. 1, vice president; Terry Culp, Orrtanna R. 1, secretary; William Singley, Cashtown, treasurer. New directors named were Pete Schwartz, Gettysburg R. 3, for a three-year term and Charles Miller Jr., Gettysburg R. 3, for a one-year term.

The election meeting was the first for the group in its new building near Orrtanna. The building was reported as 90 per cent completed.

Twenty-four new members were accepted, bringing the total membership to 300.

Reports at the meeting showed that 50 bands have been received from the 100 banded pheasants released by the organization this fall. The organization had hoped that all those who shot the pheasants would return the bands with information concerning where the birds were shot so that the spread of released birds might be learned.

CROP PRICE

(Continued from Page 1) $1.07 and an 18-cent payment based on diverting acreage to bring the price support to $1.25. Barley payments are 82 cents loan and 14 cents payment and grain sorghum $1.71 loan and 29 cents payment.

570 THIS YEAR

A special provision is made to pay 50 per cent of the county support rate on normal production of diverted acres up to the eligible maximum of 25 acres for small farms. On larger farms the payment will be at 20 per cent of the county support rate for the first 20 per cent of acreage diverted and 50 per cent on acreage diverted above the minimum requirement.

Further details on the program will be announced later, Starnes said, when the county learns the sign-up period for the program, which will be announced early next year.

As in the past, price support in the case of grains where reduction of acreage is required is based upon performance of the acreage diversion agreed to by the farmer, with allowance for a small tolerance for error.

This year about 570 county farmers were signed under the feed grain program.

Court Says Funkhouser Must Pay His Secretary Overtime

The Federal Court ruled recently that a pretty secretary to J. Raymond Funkhouser was a working girl and entitled to $5,700 in overtime for her chores.

Funkhouser is a brother of the late Roy P. Funkhouser, of Gettysburg, and a partner in the former Victor Products Corp. here.

Miss Ita E. Keller, of New York, won the award in a decision handed down by Judge Edward S. Northrop, Baltimore, after three days of trial.

In addition the judge granted a total of $900 to her lawyers in the case brought under the Fair Labor Standards Act.

SECURED THRU AD

Services of the youthful brunette plaintiff were obtained through an ad that offered "$500 a month plus expenses" to a secretary "25 years old plus and free to travel to Florida, New York, California and Europe."

Miss Keller said she took the job as executive secretary to R. J. Funkhouser, chairman of the board of Victor Products Corporation, Hagerstown, a manufacturer of freezers and cold storage warehouses.

Court Says Funkhouser Must Pay His Secretary Overtime

In addition to the salary, Miss Keller said she was to get a $200 a month clothing allowance, room and board at Mr. Funkhouser's house, Pioneer Point, Centerville, Md.

She was supposed to work only 35 hours a week, the testimony disclosed, and the clothing allowance was paid only once during her eighteen months of labor.

NOT AN EXECUTIVE

In handing down his ruling, Judge Northrop decided that Miss Keller did not fit into an executive capacity under the law but did routine stenographic work.

However, he added, during a trip to Florida she "did not answer the phone and did not receive people." No overtime was allowed for this period.

At other times, Miss Keller made notes on letters Mr. Funkhouser received and did routine work that would qualify her as a secretary.

Judge Northrop mentioned that he had to take into consideration the size of Miss Keller's room at Pioneer Point (21 by 15 feet with private bath) and the board in handing down his ruling that she worked 67 days overtime in 9½ weeks.

Total award was $2,850 plus an equal amount for damages allowed under the labor law.

Make Changes In Charter Of Home

The Adams County court today handed down an order approving amendments to the articles of incorporation of "The Brethren's Home of the Church of the Brethren" at Cross Keys.

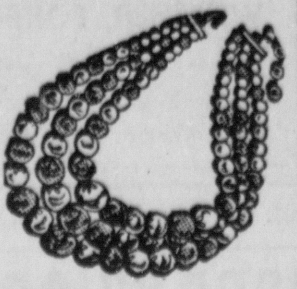

The changes give the home legally the name "The Brethren Home" to which it had been referred generally. Other changes name all the members of the Church of the Brethren in good standing in the Southern District of Pennsylvania as members of the corporation. Previously the charter had not spelled out the membership of the corporation while providing for its conduct by a board named by the membership through their delegates. Another change removes a paragraph providing the yearly income of the corporation should not exceed $25,000.

President Will Unveil Priceless Painting Of Mona Lisa On January 8

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
WASHINGTON (AP) — In Vault X of the National Gallery of Art, a celebrated lady rested today, waiting for somebody to let her out of a box so she can turn her inscrutable smile on Americans.

Under security guard seldom accorded a queen, the Mona Lisa of Leonardo da Vinci, the world's most famous portrait, arrived Wednesday from the Paris Louvre.

An ambassador of good will, she will be unveiled Jan. 8 by President Kennedy before a throng of nobles, including members of the new Congress.

DISPLAYED ELSEWHERE
After three weeks in Washington, the 450-year-old painting will move on to the Metropolitan Museum in New York, then possibly to other American cities, before going home to France.

The Mona Lisa made the liner France. At New York Wednesday, her aluminum and plastic box, airconditioned to duplicate the humidity and temperature of the Louvre, was loaded with ceremony into a small black van.

In a seven-car caravan, the van sped to the capital. Eyes of Secret Service men, assigned by Kennedy, roved right and left. Soldiers turned out to guard the way. In every state enroute, state police formed a motorcycle escort. Tunnels were closed to ordinary traffic.

IS PRICELESS
The Mona Lisa is priceless, although one figure mentioned as her value is $100 million. No insurance was taken out for her trans-Atlantic passage—the rates would have been prohibitive.

In France, some art critics and others had raised protests against the painting's voyage to the New World. They thought of the storms at sea, of possible portrait pirates, and, above all, of chances in humidity that might flake the paint off the aged panel of poplar wood.

FIRE DESTROYS 9 ROW HOUSES

STEELTON, Pa. (AP) — Fire destroyed nine Steelton row houses today, routing more than 100 persons from their homes. No injuries were reported.

Fire Chief Wilbur Stehman said the first call on the fire came in at 1:38 a.m. All six Steelton fire companies answered the alarm. The blaze was brought under control about 6:30 a.m.

"This could have been a disaster if it had not been for the good work of our police," said Mayor Bayard Reider.

He said police Lt. Stephen Cordas and patrolman Virgil McGrady heard the fire call on their police radio. They went to the area, awakening residents.

Reider said the fire "completely gutted" the three brick and six frame homes in the row. Only the outer shells of the buildings remained.

An emergency area was set up in the borough hall for persons made homeless by the blaze.

"The Red Cross and Volunteers of America have donated clothing and food, which will be issued as needed," said Reider.

Stehman blamed the fire on an overheated furnace in one of the houses located on Christian St.

President Will Unveil Priceless Painting Of Mona Lisa On January 8

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY
WASHINGTON (AP) — In Vault X of the National Gallery of Art, a celebrated lady rested today, waiting for somebody to let her out of a box so she can turn her inscrutable smile on Americans.

Under security guard seldom accorded a queen, the Mona Lisa of Leonardo da Vinci, the world's most famous portrait, arrived Wednesday from the Paris Louvre.

An ambassador of good will, she will be unveiled Jan. 8 by President Kennedy before a throng of notables, including members of the new Congress.

DISPLAYED ELSEWHERE
After three weeks in Washington, the 45-year-old painting will move on to the Metropolitan Museum in New York, then possibly to other American cities, before going home to France.

The Mona Lisa made the Atlantic crossing on the liner France. At New York Wednesday, her aluminum and plastic box, airconditioned to duplicate the humidity and temperature of the Louvre, was loaded with ceremony into a small black van. In a seven-car caravan, the van sped to the capital. Eyes of Secret Service men, assigned by Kennedy, roved right and left. Soldiers turned out to guard the way. In every state enroute, state police formed a motorcycle escort. Tunnels were closed to ordinary traffic.

IS PRICELESS

The Mona Lisa is priceless, although one figure mentioned as her value is $100 million. No insurance was taken out for her trans-Atlantic passage—the rates would have been prohibitive.

In France, some art critics and others had raised protests against the painting's voyage to the New World. They thought of the storms at sea, of possible portrait pirates, and, above all, of chances in humidity that might flake the paint off the aged panel of poplar wood.

FIRE DESTROYS 9 ROW HOUSES

STEELTON, Pa. (AP) — Fire destroyed nine Steelton row houses today, routing more than 100 persons from their homes. No injuries were reported.

Fire Chief Wilbur Stehman said the first call on the fire came in at 1:58 a.m. All six Steelton fire companies answered the alarm. The blaze was brought under control about 6:30 a.m.

"This could have been a disaster if it had not been for the good work of our police," said Mayor Bayard Reider.

He said police Lt. Stephen Cordas and patrolman Virgil McGrady heard the fire call on their police radio. They went to the area, awakening residents.

Reider said the fire "completely gutted" the three brick and six frame homes in the row. Only the outer shells of the buildings remained.

An emergency area was set up in the borough hall for persons made homeless by the blaze.

"The Red Cross and Volunteers of America have donated clothing and food, which will be issued as needed," said Reider.

Stehman blamed the fire on an overheated furnace in one of the houses located on Christian St.

SPORTSMEN ELECT SPENCE

Adams County Clerk of Courts Clark E. Spence has been re-elected president of the Adams County Fish and Game Association, the organization announced today.

Election of new officers took place at a meeting Friday evening. Other officers re-elected were William Howe, Orrtanna R. 1, vice president; Terry Culp, Orrtanna R. 1, secretary; William Singley, Cashtown, treasurer. New directors named were Pete Schwartz, Gettysburg R. 3, for a three-year term and Charles Miller Jr., Gettysburg R. 3, for a one-year term.

The election meeting was the first for the group in its new building near Orrtanna. The building was reported as 90 per cent completed.

Twenty-four new members were accepted, bringing the total membership to 300.

Reports at the meeting showed that 50 bands have been received from the 100 banded pheasants released by the organization this fall. The organization had hoped that all those who shot the pheasants would return the bands with information concerning where the birds were shot so that the spread of released birds might be learned.

$1.07 and an 18-cent payment based on diverting acreage to bring the price support to $1.25. Barley payments are 82 cents loan and 14 cents payment and grain sorghum $1.71 loan and 29 cents payment.

570 THIS YEAR

A special provision is made to pay 50 per cent of the county support rate on normal production of diverted acres up to the eligible maximum of 25 acres for small farms. On larger farms the payment will be at 20 per cent of the county support rate for the first 20 per cent of acreage diverted and 50 per cent on acreage diverted above the minimum requirement.

Further details on the program will be announced later. Starnes said, when the county learns the sign-up period for the program, which will be announced early next year.

As in the past, price support in the case of grains where reduction of acreage is required is based upon performance of the acreage diversion agreed to by the farmer, with allowance for a small tolerance for error.

This year about 570 county farmers were signed under the feed grain program.

Make Changes In Charter Of Home

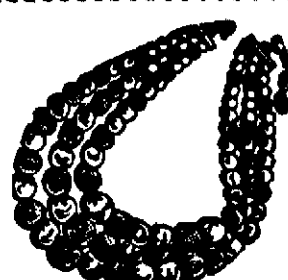

The Adams County court today handed down an order approving amendments to the articles of incorporation of "The Brethren's Home of the Church of the Brethren" at Cross Keys.

The changes give the home legally the name "The Brethren Home" to which it had been referred generally. Other changes name all the members of the Church of the Brethren in good standing in the Southern District of Pennsylvania as members of the corporation. Previously the charter had not spelled out the membership of the corporation while providing for its conduct by a board named by the membership through their delegates. Another change removes a paragraph providing the yearly income of the corporation should not exceed $25,000.

as you think them. To be frank is to be naturally straightforward.
Look the other fellow in the eye.Just as a straight line is the shortest distance between two points, so is frankness the only right course between all people.
Because nothing is wasted. The frank man is the only man worthy of trust.Look the other fellow in the eye.Frankness between employer and employee, frankness between a man and a woman. Frankness between yourself and the one who disagrees with you is the only sensible way.Look the other fellow in the eye.The beginning of mutual respect is trust. No satisfactory result in anything was ever achieved without frankness.Look the other fellow in the eye.Never think that frankness is impudence, nor crude opinion. It is the face to face openness of mind and heart that challenges immediate acceptance of what you have to say as the uncoated truth.Look the other fellow in the eye.Today, don't hedge. Stand squarely on your own legs. Be frank. And you will marvel at the ease with which other people will understand and respect you.
Frankness, a very precious possession, is possible to all — save one, the coward. You — start to put frankness into use. Make it earn its board and lodging. Say out what you have to say — with frankness.Look the other fellow in the

To Prevent Mental Illness*EDITOR'S NOTEDoctors, clergymen, teachers and community workers are combining forces today to help those who suffer mental affliction and emotional distress. It's a far cry from former days when the mental patient was shunned as a social outcast. Here, in the fourth of five special articles, is the story of this joint attempt to prevent emotional trouble before it starts.By ALTON BLAKESLEE*Associated Press Science WriterTOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Along the highways to the Menninger Foundation are coming clergymen, businessmen, doctors, lawyers, teachers, community leaders.They share a common goal — the prevention of mental illness with its incalculable human suffering."The exciting thing is to help people before they become ill," says Dr. William Menninger, a big, relaxed man who with his brother, Karl, is among the pioneers in psychiatric care who have helped change state mental hospitals from keepers of the ill to effective treatment centers.AIM AT PREVENTIONMental illness begins or is aggravated in the home, the school, on the job, in many situations.
Life can begin going sour in hundreds of ways—for the woman feeling useless after her children leave home, the man failing of his dreams, the child feeling inadequate to parental expectations and demands.There are not enough psychiatrists and psychologists for troubled persons to turn to. Many psychiatrists give such aid, and half the people going to family doctors do so because of symptoms arising from psychological causes. Psychiatric education of the general physician is a major program of the American Psychiatric Association.Community leaders could become a small army of men and women giving counsel to help solve emotional problems.BUSINESS EXECUTIVES TOOSome already know intuitively how to advise the emotionally troubled, says Dr. Joseph Satten, director of the Menninger Foundation's social psychiatry department, stressing research on prevention.Others can be given an understanding of some scientific principles, the ABC with which to recognize problems, to counsel people, to prevent situations from becoming worse, to suggest helpful courses of action in a useful way.What happens to people at work can powerfully influence mental health, explains Dr. Harry Levinson. So, since 1956, top business executives have been coming to the foundation for special week-long seminars to "learn what makes people tick."PROBLEMS AT HOMEWhy does a top salesman fail as a desk-bound executive? Why do seemingly successful men turn to alcoholism, or threaten suicide?
What makes employees angry or frustrated?By one estimate, 80 to 90 percent of emotional problems seen on the job among employees arise in their home life.The objective is to teach business leaders how to listen, to know how humans feel, Dr. Levinson adds. And, since top men have emotions, also, how to maintain their own balance.TRAIN CLERGYMENOne survey finds that 42 percent of people turn first to their ministers or pastors when emotional troubles begin to take a a program in which Topeka schools, teachers, psychiatrists and psychologists join hands in counseling to detect troubles, find causes and remedies. Invariably this involves voluntary consultations with parents, who may unwittingly be triggering the child's reactions.PARENTS' TASK TOUGH"Being a good parent is one of the most difficult tasks of all,"

Dr. Greenwood remarks sympathetically. This teamwork approach for children reaches into

WITH WORKERS*By SAM DAWSON*AP Business News AnalystNEW YORK (AP)—Kaiser Steel and its workers are tackling two of the knottiest labor problems of the day—job security under the impact of technical advances, and how management and labor should split the sales dollar between them.Loss of jobs to machines and loss of profits to rising production costs will be the basic issues in most of next year's important union-management negotiations.HELP BOTH SIDESKaiser Steel and its union, the United Steelworkers, have worked out a plan they hope will have something for both sides. Whether the plan will work for them is yet to be seen. And whether such a plan will fit other company situations, and other industries, is also a question.The Kaiser plan is first to retrain employees who lose their jobs to machines, and second to split between the company and the workers the increased earnings from any lowering of production costs per unit—after taxes.The two problems are intertwined. They have pushed each other up in a spiral to become a major labor-management clash, which has moved the administration to set up guidelines in the public interest.MARGIN SHRINKSManagement charged its profit margin was shrinking to nothing because of rising labor costs and automation was the only way out.
Labor charged it was being pushed out of jobs, and that management was profiting from the cost cutting much more than it would admit.The unions have been asking higher wages for those still employed as a greater share in the resulting earnings; greater benefits for those who suffered from automation, and a shorter work week to spread the available work.To this management replied that the union demands would soak up all of the gains from cost cutting, and that profits would still be un-healthily low.IMPORT CHALLENGEThe California-based company has a particular reason to need to find a solution to costly steel production. It has faced the challenge of Japanese steel imports, a challenge more pressing on the West Coast than the flow of steel from Europe to the East Coast. Kaiser is eager to cut its production costs. Thus the offer to retrain displaced employees and to share any gains from lower unit production costs.Many other companies, and in other industries than steel, have pushed retraining programs. Federal and state governments are sponsoring such programs.
But the problem is far from licked. And this is why the West Coast experiment will be closely watched by industry, by labor, and by government.HELSENKI, Finland (AP)Floods, heavy rains and frosts de-their chief holiday. They brought the old customs from their homeland, especially the Christmas stocking and ob-

St. Nicholas.In the southern colonies, the planters celebrated the yuletide with feasting, singing and dancing. On many plantations slaves were given a holiday as long as the great yule log burned.The latter half of the 18th century saw a swing of attention to the realm of ecogious controversies became of less importance. The fact that English and Hessian during the Revolutionary War may have added a patriotic note to the denominational controversy.General Washington crossedthe Delaware River on the night of December 25, 1776, to surprise and defeat the Hessians troops stationed at Tren-

Washington's bold venture succeeded because the Hessians were enjoying their customary Christmas revels and failed to maintain the usual watch and patrols.However, denominational opposition to the ecclesiastic observance of Christmas continued into the second half of the 19th century. An account in the New York Daily Times for December 26, 1855, read:"The churches of the Presbyterians, Baptists and Methodists were not open on Dec. 25 except where some Mission Schools had a celebration.
They do not accept the day

ATHLETES JOIN TRACK RIVALS IN FIELD MEET

CHICAGO (AP) — President Kennedy's call for a truce in the battle for amateur sports control apparently bore fruit today when a full field of invited athletes gathered for a track meet mutually sanctioned by the rival groups.

The occasion is the University of Chicago Track Club's 10th Holiday track and field meet. It is the first ever to bear joint sanction of the erstwhile warring AAU and U.S. Track Federation.

Competing in the afternoon and night events are 191 college, high school and "open" track athletes. The field includes former collegiate stars and a number of current college stars home for the Christmas holidays.

The Central AAU has sanctioned the University of Chicago indoor meet since its inception but this is the first time it has had official approval of the NCAA-backed federation.

Ted Haydon, Maroon track coach and meet director, said he sought a federation permit, not as a challenge of the AAU's "sole authority" to sanction open competition, but because he recognized the federation's right to regulate athletes of its members. The members are mainly colleges and high schools.

The Central AAU said earlier this week that the meet will be conducted under "all rules and regulations of the AAU." It said it regarded the federation's sanction as "an internal college matter."

President Kennedy told a news conference last week that he was alarmed over the 2½-year feud between the AAU and the federation because it might kill U.S. chances in the 1963 Pan-American Games and 1964 Olympics.

BRAVES WIN TEAM HONORS IN FIELDING

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves captured team and individual defensive honors in the National League in 1962, the official averages released Wednesday disclosed.

The Braves had three fielding leaders—first baseman Joe Adcock .997, second baseman Frank Bolling .989 and catcher Del Crandall .994. Other pace-setters were shortstop Jose Pagan of San Francisco .873, third baseman Don Hoak, Pittsburgh .969, outfielder Tony Gonzalez, Philadelphia 1.000 and pitcher Dallas Green, also of the Phillies, 1.000.

COLLECTIVE AVERAGE

Milwaukee had the highest collective average, .980, followed by St. Louis with .979, Philadelphia, Chicago, San Francisco and Cincinnati finished in a four-way deadlock for third at .977.

Gonzalez tied the major league record for the highest percentage by an outfielder in 100 or more games. He handled 276 chances in 114 games. The perfect mark was set by Danny Litwiler of the Phillies in 1942 and equaled by Willard Marshall of the Boston Braves in 1951.

The closest battle for individual honors was at shortstop, where Leo Cardenas of Cincinnati and Roy McMillan, Milwaukee, each had a .972 average, one point less than the Giants' Pagan.

PITTSBURGH NIPS HERSHEY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Pittsburgh hockey fans savored an unusual memory Thursday, the sight of their Hornets trimming the Hershey Bears.

The cellar club in the American Hockey League held on for a 4-3 decision over the Bears Wednesday night, for its first victory against Hershey at home since Pittsburgh rejoined the AHL last season.

It was the only AHL game scheduled. Bob Dillabough's goal at 7:58 of the third period provided the margin. It gave the Hornets a 4-2 lead, enough to withstand Les Duff's goal for Hershey at 11:47. Early in the final period, Earl Balfour skated the length of the ice and netted the goal for Pittsburgh that broke a 2-2 tie.

Then Dillabough slapped in the rebound from teammate Eddie Joyal's shot.

HAWKS LEAD ICE LEAGUE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Stan Mikita butted in on a private goal-trading battle and with one swipe of his stick took over the National Hockey League scoring lead and sent the Chicago Black Hawks into undisputed first place.

Mikita managed the double feat Wednesday night against the Boston Bruins. His goal with 2 minutes, 40 seconds left gave the Black Hawks a 3-2 victory in the only NHL game scheduled.

Before Mikita's goal, Johnny Bucyk had poured through two goals for the Bruins and Murray Balfour had two for the Black Hawks.

Mikita's goal gave him 12 for the year. He has 18 assists for 30 points, one more than Gordie Howe of Detroit and Andy Bathgate of New York.

GEORGIA TECH WINS FIFTH IN ROW OVER N.C.

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Comes new Georgia Tech, a ramblin' toward a national ranking and a threatenin' to pose some problems for Southeastern Conference basketball teams.

Coach John Hyder's Engineers, generally picked among the outsiders in the pre-season predictions, now have won five straight and are making noises which are being heard with some apprehension in the SEC.

One of the louder noises was an 84-71 triumph Wednesday night over a good North Carolina State team which had lost only one game.

LOYOLA ROLLS ON

In other major action, fourth-ranked Chicago Loyola continued its rampage with a 106-94 win over Indiana, Xavier of Ohio upset St. Bonaventure 86-77, Wake Forest subdued Maryland 85-74, Princeton won its sixth without loss in an 84-69 rout of Rutgers and fifth ranked Mississippi State crushed Christian Brothers 106-71 for its fifth victory against a single loss.

Georgia Tech won only four conference games en route to a 10-16 record last season, and wasn't generally regarded as a major threat to such powerhouses as Mississippi State and Kentucky.

Georgia Tech, however, now owns victories over such highly regarded opponents as Furman, Rice, Southern Methodist and Wednesday night's victim, North Carolina State.

MARYLAND BOWS

Leslie Hunter produced 17 points and 19 rebounds for Chicago Loyola, which went over 100 points for the sixth straight game against Indiana.

Wake Forest's triumph over Maryland allowed the Deacons to tie the Duke for the Atlantic Coast Conference lead, each with 3-0 league marks.

Sophomore standout Bill Bradley turned in another sparkling performance for Princeton, hitting eight of 14 field goal attempts and all nine free throws against Rutgers.

Mississippi State got 22 points from Joe Dan Gold and 20 from Stan Brinker in the easy conquest of Christian Brothers.

Ronnie Crouse Is Top Punter

Ronnie Crouse, former Littleton High School football star, topped the nation as the best small college punter during the past season according to final figures just released by National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

Crouse, a Senior at Catawba College, Salisbury, N. C., compiled a 47.7-yard average on 37 kicks during the season. Looney, Oklahoma, was the major college leader with an average of 43.4.

MITTANY LIONS AIM AT FOURTH BOWL VICTORY

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Rip Engle, Penn State's football coach whose teams may have set a record by winning three straight bowl games in as many years, is looking forward to his fourth with a relaxed but wary attitude.

The Nittany Lions will meet Florida in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville Dec. 29, and Engle believes it will be a strong test for his team which finished the season ranked ninth in the nation.

"Florida will be as good as any team we've played in a bowl," he said after a Penn State practice session Wednesday.

"They've got everything going for them. They lost their final game of the season (to Miami), which they felt they should have won. They're all fired up about it and are talking about this as a 'redemption bowl.'"

Engle frets after three days of practice at the Naval Academy because his own team hasn't regained the sharp edge it had when the regular season ended 3½ weeks ago.

"Our timing is still off and we've got to get our assignments down better," he said. "You'd be surprised how much a kid can forget in three weeks."

But the veteran of 33 years of coaching doesn't appear ready to jump in the Severn River about it.

3 STRAIGHT WINS

"Bowl games are matter of approach," he said. "You don't want to get there too early."

He obviously feels Penn State will be ready when the time comes. He tries to impress his players the college's bowl record—consecutive victories over Alabama and Oregon in the Liberty Bowl and Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl the last three years. Many on the squad are veterans of the last two games.

Engle said in the sharp form they had at the end of the season they were the best team he has ever coached.

WERKMAN TOPS CAGE SCORERS

NEW YORK (AP)—To the surprise of practically no one, Seton Hall's Nick Werkman has grabbed the early lead in the individual scoring race among the nation's major college basketball players. Werkman has an average of 37.7 points a game in the first rating of the season today by the NCAA Service Bureau, a healthy 5-point-plus margin over Barry Kramer of New York University, second with a 32.0 average. The averages are based on games through Dec. 15.

Werkman, now a 6-foot-3 junior, had a 33-point average last season, finishing third behind the now graduated Bill McGill of Utah and Jack Foley of Holy Cross.

RICKEY STILL PLANNING AT 81

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Branch Rickey, who probably has "retired" more times than anyone else in baseball, was full of plans for still another venture as he celebrated his 81st birthday today.

Rickey, appointed recently as consultant to the St. Louis Cardinals, was looking ahead, paying little heed to his birthday.

"I'm all right," he said at his suburban Fox Chapel home. "I'm busy. I'm active. I'm not sick. I think I had a good year. But I don't want to pay much attention to birthdays. I don't care to count them any more."

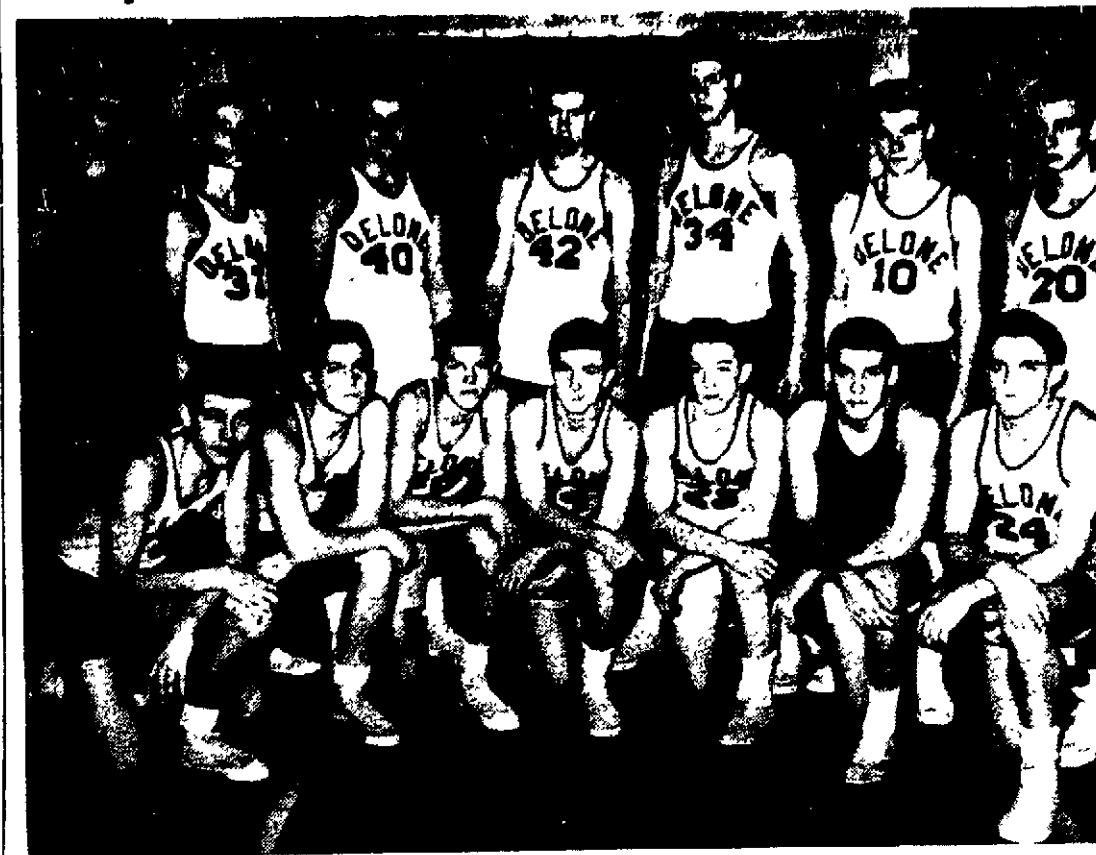

The new job with the Cardinals "came as a great surprise" to baseball's elder statesman.

"I didn't have any idea of becoming interested again in any one club," he said. "I had retired."

Rickey and his family lived in St. Louis for some 26 years, until 1943, and he plans to move back there. His job will be to use the experience he gained over the years with the St. Louis, Brooklyn and Pittsburgh clubs for "the production and development of players."

Industry replaces, on the average, 60 per cent of its profits in to development and upkeep compared with 30 per cent 40 years ago.

JUDGE DENIES MOTION TO BAN NFL BLACKOUT

NEW YORK (AP)—Three New York men have called a lawyer to get their television sets fixed.

They want to watch the National Football League championship playoff game Dec. 30, between the New York Giants and the Green Bay Packers.

The game will be blacked out on TV for 75 miles from Yankee Stadium.

The three men filed suit in Federal Court Wednesday to get the TV blackout lifted. Judge Weinfield denied their motion for a temporary restraining order, but set a further hearing for next Monday.

The court move was indicative of the wild scrambling in the area for a view of the game. Hundreds of fans waited through a sub-freezing night for the few remaining tickets and snapped them all up Monday.

Motels on the fringe of the blackout are booked solid by fans planning to watch the game on TV sets tuned to stations outside the area.

In their suit, Louis R. Bla ch, Thomas O'Connell Jr., and Peter Sibell, all of Manhasset, N.Y., claimed the playoff game was of national interest and the equivalent of the World Series in baseball.

The suit pointed out the game is sold out, "and plaintiffs and others similarly situated will be unable to view this event of national interest except on television."

TWO LEAD '62 TENNIS ACES

NEW YORK (AP)—Chuck McKinley and Darlene Hard top the nation's tennis players in the 1962 ratings of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association. McKinley heads the men's list for the first time while Miss Hard was ranked first among the women for the third straight year.

McKinley of St. Ann., Mo., 21-year-old mainstay of the American Davis Cup team, replaced the slumping Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., as the No. 1 player in the rankings announced Tuesday. Reed, who had a bad year, was dropped to sixth.

McKinley, ranked second a year ago, was at his best in the U.S. Championships at Forest Hills where he put up a tremendous effort before losing to Australia's Roy Emerson in the semifinals.

Miss Hard of Long Beach, Calif., was beaten in the finals of the national championships by Margaret Smith, the tall Australian star.

The rankings were recommended by the men's and women's committees but must be approved at the U.S.L.T.A.'s annual meeting at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., next Feb. 2. Usually that is just a formality.

TAPERS TROUNCED

The Philadelphia Tapers couldn't even leave town today. They had to face the Kansas City Steers again tonight.

That could not be a pleasant prospect after the 117-84 beating the Steers handed them Wednesday night at Kansas City, on the heels of a 119-106 whipping Tuesday. It was the seventh straight for the American Basketball League leaders, and moved them 2½ games in front of the pack.

The other four teams in the ABL were idle.

Shenandoah To Be Winterized

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. — A $50,000 winterizing job is underway to prepare the Shenandoah Downs grandstand and paddock area for the 20-day winter meeting which opens January 11. General Manager Robert G. Leavitt said today. Shenandoah, awarded its first winter schedule by the West Virginia Racing Commission last week, will race through February 2.

Glassing in the 3800-seat grandstand is the only major task in readying the track for winter racing. Leavitt pointed out. The clubhouse has been fully enclosed and heated or air conditioned since the inaugural 1959 meetings and heat was installed in the grandstand at that time.

Maintenance personnel will move the paddock from its present outdoor location between grandstand and clubhouse and will glass-enclose this area. The regular paddock will be temporarily closed off, but will be back in use next summer.

SEEK BACKERS FOR SICK AFL N.Y. FRANCHISE

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — American Football League Commissioner Joe Foss, in town to find new backers for the league's sick New York franchise, said Wednesday the AFL "turned the corner this year."

"Everything will get better from here on," Foss predicted. "You can tell that from the rookies we are signing."

"We're not only getting some of the name players, but solid boys right down the list."

Foss admitted that he would like to settle quickly the ownership of the New York Titans, who became a league charge the last half of the season and now are wallowing in debt and disinterest.

"There are several hot prospects," he said, "but if I were to tell you when the deal will be completed I would be only guessing."

The AFL commissioner said that Titan owner Harry Wismer would be completely out of any new Titan ownership picture. Wismer has run an unusual operation, feuding with coaches, players, front office help and the press, and losing jobs of money in the process.

It had been reported that Wismer's desire to retain some stock in a new ownership arrangement was one of the sticky problems in getting new Titan backing.

"The new people would own the club 100 per cent," Foss said. "They would keep it in New York. They are all New York people. The franchise has great potential."

HIDDEN SHIRT

PARSONS, Kan. (AP) — Rees Hughes was a heartick 9-year-old when he couldn't find his new basketball shirt before leaving the church gym.

The coach had passed out the uniforms that day and Rees was happy to get one. Adults helped in the search, but the basketball shirt couldn't be found.

Rees went home, undressed to take a bath and found it—under his regular shirt.

CONSHOHOCKEN, Pa. (AP) — Mrs. Ruth Lewandowski told police she parked her car at her home Wednesday and had walked only a few feet when the vehicle suddenly bore down on her, pinning her against a fence. Mrs. Lewandowski, 20-year-old mother of three, was unhurt when firemen succeeded in chipping their way through the fence to free her.

LICENSE EXPIRES

Napa State Hospital doctors described Machen as an "acute schizophrenic" and a "paranoid" in need of treatment and dangerous to himself and others.

At nearly the same time, Jack Urch, executive officer of the State Athletic Commission, said Machen's California boxing license expires Dec. 31.

Before Machen could be issued a new license, Urch said, the athletic commission would require a complete medical clearance.

Machen was taken to the Napa State Hospital for observation and his own protection after a state highway patrolman found him in a car parked near Vallejo. The boxer was writing what was described as a "farewell letter" to his wife, Charlotte, and had a loaded pistol in the car.

Experts To Decide Merits Of Switch

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — It was up to a retired city engineer and a University of Pennsylvania professor today to decide whether Theodore Baclawski's homemade selector switch qualifies him for promotion as an electrical engineer. Baclawski, flunked his promotion test some months ago after describing at length in a paper how the switch worked. He got a chance to show it to city personnel men Wednesday but they said it didn't mean a thing to them. It was suggested Baclawski pick two competent persons to re-examine the test paper.

GRID ODDITIES OF '62 SEASON STAND OUT NOW

NEW YORK (AP)—Every college football season produces some oddities, but three of them take the cake this time and all of them involve the forward pass.

There was Navy's sleeper play against Pittsburgh, Yale's illegal pass against Princeton, and All-America quarterback George Mira's 4-yard pass caught by All-America quarterback George Mira.

Many other freak and unusual situations came to light in the annual year-end Associated Press poll of the past pigskin parade, but the three incidents mentioned wound-up in a dead heat at the top.

SLEEPER PLAY OUT

The old sleeper play, where a man lay prone near the sidelines when the teams lined up then took a long pass while undetected by the defensive club, has been outlawed.

But Navy Coach Wayne Hardin dusted it off Oct. 27 when Navy beat Pitt 32-9 in the Oyster Bowl at Norfolk, Va.

Pitt led 3-0 on Rick Lesson's 37-yard field goal early in the first quarter. After the kickoff, Navy halfback Jim Stewart went to the right flank, appearing to limp before halting near the sideline. When the ball was snapped, Stewart dashed downfield unmolested and caught a pass from quarterback Roger Staubach to complete a 66-yard touchdown play.

ILLEGAL PASS

On Nov. 17, Princeton's fourth period score gave the Tigers a 14-10 victory over Yale, and saved referee Ed Myer from considerable embarrassment. Yale had scored on an illegal touchdown pass in the third period, and that could have decided the game.

Ed McCarthy, Yale quarterback handed off to fullback Pete Cummings who was trapped on a run and tossed to McCarthy—an ineligible receiver—in the end zone. It was a night game at Miami Sept. 29, with Miami playing Texas as Christian, but the lights didn't get into Mira's eyes. One of his passes was deflected by a TCU defender. Mira caught it and gained four yards, and the NCAA put it down in the records as a completed pass, Mira to Mira. The record book had better put in an asterisk and explain that one for readers in 1970.

ATHLETES JOIN TRACK RIVALS IN FIELD MEET

CHICAGO (AP) — President Kennedy's call for a truce in the battle for amateur sports control apparently bore fruit today when a full field of invited athletes gathered for a track meet mutually sanctioned by the rival groups.

The occasion is the University of Chicago Track Club's 10th Holiday track and field meet. It is the first ever to bear joint sanction of the erstwhile warring AAU and U.S. Track Federation.

Competing in the afternoon and night events are 191 college, high school and "open" track athletes. The field includes former collegiate stars and a number of current college stars home for the Christmas holidays.

The Central AAU has sanctioned the University of Chicago indoor meet since its inception but this is the first time it has had official approval of the NCAA-backed federation.

Ted Hayden, Maroon track coach and meet director, said he sought a federation permit, not as a challenge of the AAU's "sole authority" to sanction open competition, but because he recognized the federation's right to regulate athletes of its members. The members are mainly colleges and high schools.

The Central AAU said earlier this week that the meet will be conducted under "all rules and regulations of the AAU." It said it regarded the federation's sanction as "an internal college matter" and the NCAA.

President Kennedy told a news conference last week that he was alarmed over the 2½-year feud between the AAU and the federation because it might kill U.S. chances in the 1963 Pan-American Games and 1964 Olympics.

BRAVES WIN TEAM HONORS IN FIELDING

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves captured team and individual defensive honors in the National League in 1962, the official averages released Wednesday disclosed.

The Braves had three fielding leaders—first baseman Joe Adcock .997, second baseman Frank Bolling .989 and catcher Del Crandall .994. Other pace-setters were shortstop Jose Pagan of San Francisco .873, third baseman Don Hoak, Pittsburgh .969, outfielder Tony Gonzalez, Philadelphia 1.000 and pitcher Dallas Green, also of the Phillies, 1.000.

Milwaukee had the highest collective average, .980, followed by St. Louis with .979. Philadelphia, Chicago, San Francisco and Cincinnati finished in a four-way deadlock for third at .977.

Gonzalez tied the major league record for the highest percentage by an outfielder in 100 or more games. He handled 26 chances in 114 games. The perfect mark was set by Danny Litwhiler of the Phillies in 1942 and equaled by Willard Marshall of the Boston Braves in 1951.

The closest battle for individual honors was at shortstop, where Leo Cardenas of Cincinnati and Roy McMillan, Milwaukee, each had a .972 average, one point less than the Giants' Pagan.

PITTSBURGH NIPS HERSHEY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Pittsburgh hockey fans savored an unusual memory Thursday, the sight of their Hornets trimming the Hershey Bears.

The cellar club in the American Hockey League held on for a 4-3 decision over the Bears Wednesday night, for its first victory against Hershey at home since Pittsburgh rejoined the AHL last season.

It was the only AHL game scheduled.

Bob Dillabough's goal at 7:58 of the third period provided the margin. It gave the Hornets a 4-2 lead, enough to withstand Les Duff's goal for Hershey at 11:47.

Early in the final period, Earl Balfour skated the length of the ice and netted the goal for Pittsburgh that broke a 2-2 tie.

HAWKS LEAD ICE LEAGUE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Stan Mikita butted in on a private goal-trading battle and with one swipe of his stick took over the National Hockey League scoring lead and sent the Chicago Black Hawks into undisputed first place.

Mikita managed the double feat Wednesday night against the Boston Bruins. His goal with 2 minutes, 40 seconds left gave the Black Hawks a 3-2 victory in the only NHL game scheduled.

Before Mikita's goal, Johnny Bucyk had poured through two goals for the Bruins and Murray Balfour had two for the Black Hawks.

Mikita's goal gave him 12 for the year. He has 18 assists for 30 points, one more than Gordie Howe of Detroit and Andy Bathgate of New York.

GEORGIA TECH WINS FIFTH IN ROW OVER N.C.

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Comes new Georgia Tech, a rambling toward a national ranking and a threat to pose some problems for Southeastern Conference basketball teams.

Coach John Hyder's Engineers, generally picked among the also-rans in the pre-season predictions, now have won five straight and are making noises which are being heard with some apprehension in the SEC.

LOYOLA ROLLS ON
In other major action, fourth-ranked Chicago Loyola continued its rampage with a 106-94 win over Indiana, Xavier of Ohio upset St. Bonaventure 86-77, Wake Forest subdued Maryland 85-74, Princeton won its sixth straight in an 84-69 rout of Rutgers and fifth ranked Mississippi State crushed Christian Brothers 106-71 for its fifth victory against a single loss.

Georgia Tech won only four conference games en route to a 10-16 record last season, and wasn't generally regarded as a major threat to such powerhouses as Mississippi State and Kentucky.

Georgia Tech, however, now owns victories over such highly regarded opponents as Furman, Rice, Southern Methodist and Wednesday night's victim, North Carolina State.

MARYLAND BOWS
Leslie Hunter produced 17 points and 19 rebounds for Chicago Loyola, which went over 100 points for the sixth straight game against Indiana.

Wake Forest's triumph over Maryland allowed the Deacons to tie the Duke for the Atlantic Coast Conference lead, each with 3-0 league marks.

Sophomore standout Bill Bradley turned in another sparkling performance for Princeton, hitting eight of 14 field goal attempts and all nine free throws against Rutgers.

Mississippi State got 22 points from Joe Dan Gold and 20 from Stan Brinker in the easy conquest of Christian Brothers.

Ronnie Crouse Is Top Punter

Ronnie Crouse, former Littleton High School football star, topped the nation as the best small college punter during the past season according to final figures just released by National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

Crouse, a senior at Catawba College, Salisbury, N. C., compiled a 44.7-yard average on 37 kicks during the season. Looney, Oklahoma, was the major college leader with an average of 43.4.

NITTANY LIONS AIM AT FOURTH BOWL VICTORY

By HERB THOMPSON

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Rip Engle, Penn State's football coach whose teams may have set a record by winning three straight bowl games in as many years, is looking forward to his fourth with a relaxed but wary attitude.

The Nittany Lions will meet Florida in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville Dec. 29, and Engle believes it will be a strong test for his team which finished the season ranked ninth in the nation.

"Florida will be as good as any team we've played in a bowl," he said after a Penn State practice session Wednesday.

"They've got everything going for them. They lost their final game of the season (to Miami), which they felt they should have won. They're all fired up about it and are talking about this as a 'redemption bowl.'"

ENGLE FRETS
"Their season also ran a week longer than ours, and they should be in better shape. They're big and strong, and don't forget, this team beat Auburn and Georgia... it wouldn't be an upset if they beat us."

Engle frets after three days of practice at the Naval Academy because his own team hasn't regained the sharp edge it had when the regular season ended 3½ weeks ago.

"Our timing is still off and we've got to get our assignments down better," he said. "You'd be surprised how much a kid can forget in three weeks."

But the veteran of 33 years of coaching doesn't appear ready to jump in the Severn River about it.

3 STRAIGHT WINS
"Bowl games are matter of approach," he said. "You don't want to get there too early."

He obviously feels Penn State will be ready when the time comes. He tries to impress his players the college's bowl record—consecutive victories over Alabama and Oregon in the Liberty Bowl and Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl the last three years. Many on the squad are veterans of the last two games.

Engle said in the sharp form they had at the end of the season they were the best team he has ever coached.

WERKMAN TOPS CAGE SCORERS

NEW YORK (AP)—To the surprise of practically no one, Seton Hall's Nick Werkman has grabbed the early lead in the individual scoring race among the nation's major college basketball players.

Werkman has an average of 37.7 points a game in the first rating of the season today by the NCAA Service Bureau, a healthy 5-point-plus margin over Barry Kramer of New York University, second with a 32.0 average. The averages are based on games through Dec. 15.

Werkman, now a 6-foot-3 junior, had a 33-point average last season, finishing third behind the now graduated Bill McGill of Utah and Jack Foley of Holy Cross.

On a team level, Chicago Loyola's Ramblers also took up this season just where they left off, holding a wide margin in team scoring. They've averaged a whopping 109.0 points a game.

RICKEY STILL PLANNING AT 81

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Branch Rickey, who probably has "retired" more times than anyone else in baseball, was full of plans for still another venture as he celebrated his 81st birthday today.

Rickey, appointed recently as consultant to the St. Louis Cardinals, was looking ahead, paying little heed to his birthday.

"I'm all right," he said at his suburban Fox Chapel home. "I'm busy; I'm active; I'm not sick. I think I had a good year. But I don't want to pay much attention to birthdays. I don't care to count them any more."

The new job with the Cardinals "came as a great surprise" to baseball's elder statesman.

"I didn't have any idea of becoming interested again in any one club," he said. "I had retired."

Rickey and his family lived in St. Louis for some 26 years, until 1943, and he plans to move back there. His job will be to use the experience he gained over the years with the St. Louis, Brooklyn and Pittsburgh clubs for "the production and development of players."

Industry replaces, on the average, 60 per cent of its profits in to development and upkeep compared with 30 per cent 40 years ago.

JUDGE DENIES MOTION TO BAN NFL BLACKOUT

NEW YORK (AP)—Three New York men have called a lawyer to get their television sets fixed.

They want to watch the National Football League championship playoff game Dec. 30, between the New York Giants and the Green Bay Packers.

The game will be blacked out on TV for 75 miles from Yankee Stadium.

The three men filed suit in Federal Court Wednesday to get the TV blackout lifted. Judge Weinfeld denied their motion for a temporary restraining order, but set a further hearing for next Monday.

The court move was indicative of the wild scrambling in the area for a view of the game. Hundreds of fans waited through a sub-freezing night for the few remaining tickets and snapped them all up Monday.

Motels on the fringe of the blackout are booked solid by fans planning to watch the game on TV sets tuned to stations outside the area.

ROOKIE OF YEAR AWARD GIVEN DALLAS PLAYER

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jack Spikes, Dallas' star fullback, went out with an injury Oct. 12 in the game with Boston.

There was gloom in the ranks of the Dallas Texans but it lasted only until the following week when a cyclone from Kansas—Curtis McCClinton—was hurled into the breach.

McCClinton played nine games at fullback for the Texans because Spikes, when he got off the injury list, couldn't get his place back. The reasons were obvious.

McCClinton carried the ball 111 times for 664 yards, caught 29 passes for 333 yards and did a terrific job of blocking.

So, Wednesday, McCClinton was named Rookie-of-the-Year in the American Football League and Coach Hank Stram of the Texans heartily agreed with the choice.

"He didn't get an opportunity to play until Spikes was injured but he took advantage of the opportunity and contributed greatly to the success of our football team," said Stram. "He has all the natural ability, intelligence and temperament to be one of the truly great fullbacks of football."

The 230-pound McCClinton, with speed to burn, was one of the big reasons Dallas won the Western Division of the AFL and plays at Houston Sunday for the championship.

MACHEN FOUND MENTALLY ILL

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (AP)—When boxer Eddie Machen parked his car Dec. 12 and began writing a note to explain why he wanted to kill himself, he may have written the ending of his fighting career.

Chances for his hope of a try in the foreseeable future at heavyweight champion Sonny Liston's title appeared gloomy Tuesday when Machen was committed to a state hospital for the mentally ill.

The 30-year-old contender—rated No. 1 heavyweight challenger by the World Boxing Association—was committed after a brief Superior Court hearing.

LICENSE EXPIRES
Napa State Hospital doctors described Machen as an "acute schizophrenic" and a "paranoid" in need of treatment and dangerous to himself and others.

At nearly the same time, Jack Urch, executive officer of the State Athletic Commission, said Machen's California boxing license expires Dec. 31.

Before Machen could be issued a new license, Urch said, the athletic commission would require a complete medical clearance.

Machen was taken to the Napa State Hospital for observation and his own protection after a state highway patrolman found him in a car parked near Vallejo. The boxer was writing what was described as a "farewell letter" to his wife, Charlotte, and had a loaded pistol in the car.

Shenandoah To Be Winterized

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. — A $50,000 winterizing job is underway to prepare the Shenandoah Downs grandstand and paddock area for the 20-day winter meeting which opens January 11. General Manager Robert G. Leavitt said today, Shenandoah, awarded its first winter schedule by the West Virginia Racing Commission last week, will race through February 2.

Glassing in the 3800-seat grandstand is the only major task in readying the track for winter racing. Leavitt pointed out. The clubhouse has been fully enclosed and heated or air conditioned since the inaugural 1959 meetings and heat was installed in the grandstand at that time.

Maintenance personnel will move the paddock from its present outdoor location between grandstand and clubhouse and will glass-enclose this area. The regular paddock will be temporarily closed off, but will be back in use next summer.

Murphy Company Presents
Bonus: Nine employees of the G. C. Murphy company in Gettysburg received Christmas bonuses in cash, Tuesday, ranging from $10 to $50. The special payments, made in line with an annual custom of the company, were distributed to employees who have worked with the company for one year or more.

Amounts of the bonus payments varied with the years of service of each employee.

Victor Gives $3,500 Gifts: The Victor Products Corporation distributed $3,500 in war bonds and stamps as Christmas gifts to 90 employees Tuesday afternoon, Roy P. Funkhouser, vice president, general manager and treasurer of the corporation, announced today.

"Each year we present our employees with a Christmas gift and this year we felt that it was appropriate and more to the American way of life to make the gifts in the form of war bonds and stamps," Mr. Funkhouser said. Last year the company presented each employee with a live turkey.

Mr. Funkhouser also announced that within a few weeks he expects to start work on a defense contract which will necessitate the employment of an additional 50 hands and the operation of three shifts.

Goat Devours Quarantine Card: An accommodating goat on the property of Mr. and Mrs. Omar Spence, Orrtanna R. 1, saved William I. Shields, Adams county health officer, an icy ride into Hamilton township today.

When Dr. Ira Henderson, Fairfield physician, who has been attending Edward Spence, aged three, ill with scarlet fever in the Omar Spence home, notified Mr. Shields that the boy had recovered and that the quarantine could be lifted today, he added, "You won't have to bother to drive up to remove the placard for Spence's goat ate the card yesterday."

3 Brothers Get 3 Deer: Three Fendersville brothers, hunting in three different counties, brought down a buck apiece during the hunting season just ended. The three bucks weighed a total of 446 pounds, when dressed, and carried a total of 32 points.

Clyde P. Orner Sr., bookkeeper for the C. H. Musselman company in Biglerville, was hunting alone near Pine Grove Furnace in Cumberland county when he brought down a Michigan flat-horn deer with antlers bearing 15 points and indications that four or five points had been broken off one antler.

Today's Talk

FRANKNESS

Frankness is the art of saying things you honestly think exactly as you think them. To be frank is to be naturally straightforward. Look the other fellow in the eye.

Just as a straight line is the shortest distance between two points, so is frankness the only right course between all people. Because nothing is wasted. The frank man is the only man worthy of trust.

Look the other fellow in the eye. Frankness between employer and employee, frankness between a man and a woman, frankness between yourself and the one who disagrees with you is the only sensible way.

Look the other fellow in the eye. The beginning of mutual respect is trust. No satisfactory result in anything was ever achieved without frankness.

Look the other fellow in the eye. Never think that frankness is impudence, nor crude opinion. It is the face to face openness of mind and heart that challenges immediate acceptance of what you have to say as the uncoated truth.

Look the other fellow in the eye. Today, don't hedge. Stand squarely on your own legs. Be frank. And you will marvel at the ease with which other people will understand and respect you. Frankness, a very precious possession, is possible to all — save one, the coward. You — start to put frankness into use. Make it earn its board and lodging. Say out what you have to say — with frankness.

Look the other fellow in the eye. Tomorrow's subject: "Wanting To Tell".

GETTING HOME

'Tis good to get back home again
To pipe, to slippers and to boots!
That cozy corner in my den,
How calm and still it looks!
There is no malice whispering
there;
No noisy bickering of trade;
No laughter, cruel and unfair
About the blunders made.

'Tis good to get back home again
Warm-welcomed from the town!
To leave the wearying world of men,
Up bound or slipping down.
The door swings open to a smile
And shuts to fretful care.
For all in life that seems worth while
Is held securely there.

'Tis good to get back home again
And drop the robes of pride;
To pass the door of peace and then Leave bitterness outside.
Against the clamor all day long
For place and fame and things,
How restful seems the cherry song!
The supper kettle sings!

The former professor of chemistry at Gettysburg College was deputy director for a class of gas specialists which graduated from the school this month. Early next month he will be instructing a group of plant specialists.

C. A. Williams To Resign P. O. Post March 31: Charles A. Williams, postmaster at Gettysburg for the last nine years and nine months, announced today that he is resigning the postmastership, effective March 31, 1943. He stated that he expects to re-enter the real estate and brokerage business in which he was engaged before becoming postmaster in 1933.

When Mr. Williams was appointed to office by President Roosevelt on July 4, 1933, the Gettysburg office was a second class office. In 1936 it attained first class rating while in 1941 the local office reached the highest classification in its history. Ratings are made on the basis of volume of stamp sales.

"Bud" Started But He Did Not Get There: Merville "Bud" Zinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Zinn, Gettysburg, left the United States in an Atlantic convoy but five days later he found himself back in the states, without even having sighted foreign land.

Engine trouble developed in the ship on which Zinn was aboard, some 160 miles at sea. After floating about for forty hours, the ship, helpless, no lights, and no cooked food for the men aboard, started moving. Crewmen having repaired one of the engines. Then, unescorted, the ship started back to the states and reached port safely. Zinn was given a short furlough and is now back at a port of embarkation ready to set sail again for foreign service. Young Zinn has been in the service since October 1941.

"Missing Son" Is Not Missing At All: Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Mickley, Orrtanna B. D., Wednesday received a telegram from the War Department advising them their son, Roy K. Mickley, has been "missing in action" since November 11, but Roy Kenneth Mickley is not "Missing in Action." In fact he spent a brief furlough with his parents ten days ago and is now in New York awaiting transportation to rejoin his regiment in North Africa. Young Mickley was torpedoed out of two boats 12 miles from Casablanca within 22 hours and the second rescue ship returned him to the states. Two others in his regiment suffered the same fate. The War Department apparently has not been notified of Mickley's rescue from the Atlantic after his second torpedoing.

Many Join Forces In Drive To Prevent Mental Illness

EDITOR'S NOTE — Doctors, clergymen, teachers and community workers are combining forces today to help those who suffer mental affliction and emotional distress. It's a far cry from former days when the mental patient was shunned as a social outcast. Here, in the fourth of five special articles, is the story of this joint attempt to prevent emotional trouble before it starts.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Along the highways to the Menninger Foundation are coming clergymen, businessmen, doctors, lawyers, teachers, community leaders.

They share a common goal — the prevention of mental illness with its incalculable human suffering.

"The exciting thing is to help people before they become ill," says Dr. William Menninger, a big, relaxed man who with his brother, Karl, is among the pioneers in psychiatric care who have helped change state mental hospitals from keepers of the ill to effective treatment centers.

AIM AT PREVENTION
Mental illness begins or is aggravated in the home, the school, on the job, in many situations. Life can begin going sour in hundreds of ways—for the woman feeling useless after her children leave home, the man failing of his dreams, the child feeling inadequate to parental expectations and demands.

There are not enough psychiatrists and psychologists for troubled persons to turn to. Many physicians give such aid, and half the people going to family doctors do so because of symptoms arising from psychological causes. Psychiatric education of the general physician is a major program of the American Psychiatric Association.

Community leaders could become a small army of men and women giving counsel to help solve emotional problems.

BUSINESS EXECUTIVES TOO
Some already know intuitively how to advise the emotionally troubled, says Dr. Joseph Satten, director of the Menninger Foundation's social psychiatry department, stressing research on prevention.

Others can be given an understanding of some scientific principles, the ABC with which to recognize problems, to counsel people, to prevent situations from becoming worse, to suggest helpful courses of action in a useful way.

What happens to people at work can powerfully influence mental health, explains Dr. Harry Levinson, So, since 1956, top business executives have been coming to the foundation for special week-long seminars to "learn what makes people tick."

PROBLEMS AT HOME
Why does a top salesman fail as a desk-bound executive? Why do seemingly successful men turn to alcoholism, or threaten suicide? What makes employees angry or frustrated?

By one estimate, 80 to 90 percent of emotional problems seen on the job among employees arise in their home life.

The objective is to teach business leaders how to listen, to know how humans feel, Dr. Levinson adds. And, since top men have emotions also, how to maintain their own balance.

TRAIN CLERGYMEN
One survey finds that 42 percent of people turn first to their ministers or pastors when emotional troubles begin to take a toll. Appropriate training for future clergymen is sponsored by the National Institute of Mental Health at Loyola University in Chicago. Yeshiva University in day received a telegram from the War Department advising them their son, Roy K. Mickley, has been "missing in action" since November 11, but Roy Kenneth Mickley is not "Missing in Action." In fact he spent a brief furlough with his parents ten days ago and is now in New York awaiting transportation to rejoin his regiment in North Africa. Young Mickley was torpedoed out of two boats 12 miles from Casablanca within 22 hours and the second rescue ship returned him to the states. Two others in his regiment suffered the same fate. KAISER PLANS PROFIT SPLIT WITH WORKERS

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Kaiser Steel and its workers are tackling two of the knottiest labor problems of the day—job security under the impact of technical advances, and how management and labor should split the sales dollar between them.

Loss of jobs to machines and loss of profits to rising production costs will be the basic issues in most of next year's important union-management negotiations.

HELP BOTH SIDES
Kaiser Steel and its union, the United Steelworkers, have worked out a plan they hope will have something for both sides. Whether the plan will work for them is yet to be seen. And whether such a plan will fit other company situations, and other industries, is also a question.

The Kaiser plan is first to re-train employees who lose their jobs to machines, and second to split between the company and the workers the increased earnings from any lowering of production costs per unit—after taxes.

The two problems are intertwined. They have pushed each other up in a spiral to become a major labor-management clash, which has moved the administration to set up guidelines in the public interest.

MARGIN SHRINKS
Management charged its profit margin was shrinking to nothing because of rising labor costs and automation was the only way out. Labor charged it was being pushed out of jobs, and that management was profiting from the cost cutting much more than it would admit.

The unions have been asking higher wages for those still employed as a greater share in the resulting earnings; greater benefits for those who suffered from automation, and a shorter work week to spread the available work.

To this management replied that the union demands would soak up all of the gains from cost cutting, and that profits would still be unhealthily low.

This is the impasse which the Kaiser Steel Corp. and its union is seeking to break.

IMPORT CHALLENGE
The California-based company has a particular reason to need to find a solution to costly steel production. It has faced the challenge of Japanese steel imports, a challenge more pressing on the West Coast than the flow of steel from Europe to the East Coast. Kaiser is eager to cut its production costs. Thus the offer to retrain displaced employees and to share any gains from lower unit production costs.

Many other companies, and in other industries than steel, have pushed retraining programs. Federal and state governments are sponsoring such programs.

But the problem is far from licked. And this is why the West Coast experiment will be closely watched by industry, by labor, and by government.

HELSINKI, Finland (AP) — Floods, heavy rains and frosts destroyed one-fifth of Finland's crops this year in an agricultural disaster described as the worst in 60 years. Soldiers were thrown into emergency work in the fields but even the crops that were saved were poor.

Total losses are estimated at $35 million. A bill is before Parliament to provide compensation for the farmers.

CHATTANOOGA (AP) — Chattanooga, which calls itself the "electrical center of the nation," led the nation last year in residential usage of electric power. Electric Light and Power Magazine reports that Chattanooga's average home used 14,174 kilowatt hours of electricity during the year.

The Electric Power Board says nine of 10 new homes built here are all-electric, including heat.

ferred with religious devotions and offended the Puritans' moral sense. This intensified their sectarian hostility to the religious observance of Christmas—an attitude they maintained for the better part of two centuries in parts of New England.

The fun-loving Dutch colonists of New Amsterdam, however, celebrated Christmas as their chief holiday. They brought the old customs from their homeland, especially the Christmas stocking and observance of the feast day of St. Nicholas.

In the southern colonies, the planters celebrated the yuletide with feasting, singing and dancing. On many plantations slaves were given a holiday as long as the great yule log burned.

The latter half of the 18th century saw a swing of attention to the realm of economics and politics and religious controversies became of less importance. The fact that English and Hessian troops celebrated Christmas during the Revolutionary War may have added a patriotic note to the denominational controversy.

General Washington crossed the Delaware River on the night of December 25, 1776, to surprise and defeat the Hessians troops stationed at Trenton. In the opinion of a writer, Washington's bold venture succeeded because the Hessians were enjoying their customary Christmas revels and failed to maintain the usual watch and patrols.

However, denominational opposition to the ecclesiastical observance of Christmas continued into the second half of the 19th century. An account in the New York Daily Times for December 26, 1855, read:

"The churches of the Presbyterians, Baptists and Methodists were not open on Dec. 25 except where some Mission Schools had a celebration. They do not accept the day as a Holy One, but the Episcopalians, Catholics and German churches were all open. Inside they were decked with evergreens."

In the 20th century, all denominations have embraced Christmas widely, both as a religious and as a social celebration. Today men, women and children in every Christian land crowd into churches to give their thanks. More than one-fourth of the world's population—about 800 million people profess some form of Christian faith.

The splendor and beauty of Christmas observances is very different from the humble stable in Bethlehem where Christ was born; but the message He brought to the world is the same—"Glory be to God in the highest; and on earth peace, good will toward men."

NASA REVAMPS RANGER PLAN FOR MOON SHOT

WASHINGTON (AP) — The space agency started a major overhaul of its trouble-plagued Ranger moon rocket program today.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration acknowledged that the action might delay its vital lunar research program—preparatory to manned landings on the moon—by several months.

But NASA said that the change should vastly improve the chances of success in obtaining the first close-at-hand television pictures of the moon, and of depositing on the moon instruments to measure moonquakes and to give clues of the moon's geography.

Information of this type is absolutely essential before the first man can dare venture onto the moon—hopefully by the end of the decade.

The space agency already has let contracts for construction of the three-man Apollo spacecraft that will orbit the moon, and the two-man capsules that will be detached to carry Apollo crews to the moon and back to their orbiting vehicles.

The agency has been increasingly concerned over the continued failure of the multimillion-dollar Ranger program.

Five Ranger vehicles have been launched. The first two were engineering test vehicles that met with only limited success.

The three others were equipped to photograph the moon with television cameras and to send this date back to earth.

Only one of these hit the moon, and it failed to send back any information. Two others missed the moon and apparently went into orbit around the sun.

The failure to achieve Ranger test goals has been charged primarily to the Jet Propulsion Laboratory of the California Institute of Technology at Pasadena, which has had major responsibility for this program.

Under the space agency's requirement that its key men produce or get out of positions of responsibility, the agency already has reassigned some of the jet lab scientists. Further changes of top personnel are considered in prospect.

Last Of Three Dr. Dooley Hospitals In Laos Clings To Life Without A Medic

By ANTOINE YARED
BAN HOUAI SAI, Laos (AP)—The last of the late Dr. Thomas Dooley's hospitals in Laos survives in this sleepy little Mekong River town—handicapped by the lack of a doctor and the nearness of unfriendly territory.

Three young Americans are carrying on the work of the jungle doctor who died of cancer in January 1961 after founding small hospitals in this underdeveloped Southeast Asian kingdom.

Dooley's death and world politics may have combined to bring about a decline in the kind of medical missionary work once practiced here.

ONE SURVIVES

Of the three hospitals Dooley started in Laos, only this one survived the two-year civil war that raked the kingdom as leftist, rightist and neutralist factions vied for power.

Even Ban Houai Sai is doing its work on a shoestring.

The last doctor left in October; another may come next summer.

Miss Zola A. Watson of Portland, Ore., is director of nurses in the Dooley Foundation which runs the hospital.

"This is not an ideal setup until we get a doctor," she says.

Miss Watson's companions are Tim Ford, a 21-year-old former Army medic from Indianapolis, Ind., and Reginald F. Gordon, 25, a surgical technician from Schenectady, N. Y.

EXPECT DOCTORS

Miss Watson says several physicians have indicated they want to work in this remote corner of Laos after finishing their post-graduate studies next June.

About a dozen Laotians call at the clinic every day on an outpatient basis. An average of five to nine patients lie in the cramped hospital ward.

Treatment in most cases is for malaria and malnutrition. Difficult cases are sent to Chiengrai, across the river in Thailand.

The hospital consists of a wooden building—set on stilts in South-east Asian style—nestled amidst trees on the top of a hill that overlooks the glistening river, at this point the border with Thailand.

Field operations are limited to an 18-mile radius. Outside that area lies territory controlled by the pro-Communist Pathet Lao. The Americans have been advised by right-wing garrison commanders here to stay out of the Communist zone.

RIOTS QUELLED IN DOMINICAN FREE ELECTION

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ
SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Dominicans voted today in their first free general elections in 38 years. Most of them hoped the result, expected to be known by Christmas Eve, would mean stable representative government after long years of dictatorship.

The closing campaign hours were marked Wednesday night by a brief outbreak of rioting in the capital. Riot police quickly restored order after three persons were injured by rocks.

Young agitators from the 14th of June Movement, a pro-Castro group, were in the middle of the rock-throwing, pistol-firing melee with followers of the conservative National Civic Union.

Dr. Viriato A. Fiallo, 67, of the Civic Union, and Juan Bosch, 53, of the left-center Dominican Revolutionary party, were leading candidates for president in a five-man contest.

BOSCH FAVORITE

Bosch was a narrow favorite. The chief question was whether his peasant followers had remained in his camp after a Jesuit priest made and retracted the charge that the party is Communist. Bosch dropped demands for a postponement of the election when the charge was withdrawn.

The voters also balloted for a vice president, a Congress of 74 deputies and 26 senators, and local and city officials.

The Congress will draft a new constitution.

Freedom of dictatorship by the assassination of Rafael Trujillo in May 1961, 800,000 to 1,000,000 Dominicans, from 18 years up, were eligible to vote. Illiterates make up about 50 per cent of the population.

Family Food Facts

THOMAS E. PIPER
Area Marketing Agent
Higher food bills are in prospect as a result of the recent freeze disaster in Florida. Yes, the difference between a condition of plentiful supplies and one of scarcity is often just a few degrees on the thermometer, observes Tom Piper, Penn State Extension Marketing Agent.

If you've been concerned about the surpluses in agriculture, note what happens when we experience scarcity. Prices on citrus fruit have practically doubled in the past week and supplies of most items will be scarce for the remainder of the season. Fresh vegetable prices will be higher too as many tender crops were killed or severely damaged by low temperatures.

An embargo currently in effect will restrict all further shipments of citrus from Florida until December 23. Wholesalers predict there will be no further shipments of tangerines and that grapefruit supplies will be greatly reduced. Higher prices are anticipated for California navel oranges and the few Temple oranges and tangelos which survived the Florida freeze. Apples, pears, grapes and bananas will receive more attention at the fruit counter and increased demand will undoubtedly influence prices.

Higher prices are in prospect for fresh vegetables, including peppers, beans, endive, escarole, radishes, tomatoes and squash. Celery and cabbage prices have also advanced in anticipation of damage to the Florida crop. Lettuce supplies are ample from Western growing areas and prices slightly higher than a week ago.

Turkeys should be featured at near the same levels as prevailed six Wayne and Pike County communities.

Owners of the firm said they were unable to estimate the loss immediately, but declared it was extensive.

Cause of the fire has not been determined.

POWELL HAS BACK CANCER

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor-producer Dick Powell is in severe pain from a cancer that apparently has spread to his lower back, his physician says.

Dr. John C. Sharpe said Tuesday that Powell, 57, is under almost continuous sedation.

Dr. Sharpe said the malignancy, although not detectable by X-ray, apparently has spread to Powell's lower back.

The physician said cobalt treatments have practically cleared up cancer in Powell's lymph glands and upper right chest cavity, where it was first discovered.

Powell entered a hospital Nov. 27, for treatment of what was then believed to be a muscle spasm resulting from a heavy cold.

Powell revealed last October that he was suffering from cancer.

Mother Kidnaps Man For Daughter

PALERMO, Sicily (AP)—Police say Anna Cardella, 40, considered Salvatore Sammarco a likely husband for her daughter Anna.

Mrs. Cardella invited the 18-year-old boy to her home, then locked him in a room with her 20-year-old daughter for four days. She served them meals regularly.

Salvatore's parents notified the police when he didn't come home. The police located him and are now holding Mrs. Cardella and her daughter on a kidnapping charge.

Mr. Shnoo's Zoo

BY LUCRECE BEALE

Chapter 16
THE QUEEN ARRIVES
MOLLY WAS STUCK in the hole like a stopper in a bottle and not all the water in the pipe could shove her out again until she was good and ready to leave.

Santa and Mr. Shnoo put down their paddles and looked around. Never had there been such a mess at the zoo! The water was going down but it would be a long time before it had all run off and the animals calmed down and their cages cleaned up.

Mr. Shnoo hailed an attendant who was drifting by on a raft made of a broken door.

"Go call the city water works!" he shouted.

The attendant did as he was told. The water men turned off the water at the main pipe and rushed to the zoo. Fortunately they brought boats with them. Otherwise they would have had to swim once they got inside the zoo gates.

When Molly had unplugged the pipe the men looked at the hole and exclaimed in surprise.

"This pipe didn't break by itself. Someone has busted it open with an axe!" The men pointed out the marks on the pipe that proved this was so.

"Yes," said Santa. "Someone did it and I know who."

"WHO?" said Mr. Shnoo.

"The same one who gave a fire-cracker to Honeybun and broke a window in the bird house and staked Henrietta to the wrong wall and set fire to the monkey house."

"But who?" demanded Mr. Shnoo.

"Crookshank," said Santa. "Impossible!"

"Crookshank," repeated Santa. "He has schemed and worked to prevent your getting an award from the Queen. Since you fixed up so fine a zoo he wants it back and he's determined you shall not be able to pay him off today. And he's not done yet. Since the flood has been stopped he will think of something else. Wait and see."

"Oh, dear," moaned Mr. Shnoo in despair. "What shall I do?" "Face him with the charge at once," advised Santa. "I think you have not a moment to lose."

"But I must clean up the zoo! Everything is turned about and heaven knows what the Queen will think!"

"Do that later," said Santa. "Crookshank comes first!"

"I suppose you're right," said Mr. Shnoo.

He borrowed a plank from one of the water men and he sat on one end and Santa sat on the other end and off they paddled to hunt for Crookshank.

They had gone only a few yards when they heard from far off a hullabaloo of automobile horns honking and bells ringing. The din came closer and closer until it stopped at the gate of the zoo and there came a great fanfare of trumpets and the rolling tattoo of drums.

"Good heavens!" cried Mr.

Shnoo.

62 Americans Are Ordained In Rome

ROME (AP)—Archbishop Martin J. O'Connor, rector of the Pontifical North American College, today ordained 62 young Americans, including five Pennsylvanians, in the Roman Catholic priesthood.

A thousand guests attended the ordination ceremony in the Church of Christ the King. Many were relatives and friends of the young priests who came from the United States for the ceremony.

Thursday the new priests will offer their first masses in various Roman churches. They will continue their theological studies in Rome until June, then return to the United States for assignments in their dioceses.

Pennsylvanians among the new priests are: John J. Fetterman, Harrisburg; Robert L. Jedrejski, Pittsburgh; Charles McGroarty, Aldan; John T. Wilde-man, Harrisburg; and Robert E. Zoba, McAdoo.

"I wish to sponsor a well cared for zoo," said the Queen.

Shnoo "It's the Queen!"

He paddled furiously until the water was too shallow to hold the plank. Then he and Santa jumped off and rushed to the gates of the zoo. There sat the Queen, all regal and stiff, in a fine open carriage surrounded by guards dressed in purple and ermine.

"Your Highness," said Mr. Shnoo, bending low. "Welcome to Shnoo's Zoo."

The Queen gazed at him in astonishment. His clothes were soiled and his face was covered with dirt. Behind him stood Santa and the two of them together looked like mud pies set out to dry.

The Queen stepped down from the carriage, wincing a little as her heel sank into mud.

"Mr. Shnoo," she said uncertainly.

"Mr. Shnoo bowed again. 'The same,' he muttered unhappily.

"As you know," said the Queen, "I wish to sponsor a happy and well cared for zoo. I also wish to award the owner 1,000 pieces of gold. I have visited all the zoos in the land. I have saved your zoo for last because I have heard such wonderful reports about how beautifully you keep it and how tenderly you treat the animals."

"I must say," she added looking about her. "It seems rather muddy and unkempt out here but I know inside the gates it will be different."

"Oh — yes, Your Majesty — eh — very different!" stammered Mr. Shnoo miserably and bowing low he led her into the zoo.

Tomorrow: Merry Christmas to All.

INSANE KILLER HOSPITALIZED

FREEHOLD, N.J. (AP) — Gabriel Richard Trifari, confessed slayer of four members of his family, has been taken to the state hospital in Trenton for treatment of a mental condition.

Trifari, 26, of Howell Township, was judged mentally incompetent Tuesday by a psychiatrist who said the chicken farmer suffers from an "acute schizophrenic reaction."

On Monday night Trifari told police he had killed his parents, his sister and his brother with a crowbar at their farm because God told him his family was bad.

Dr. John P. Mohair, a Freehold psychiatrist, said after examining the man in the county jail here that the family either had not known of his condition or had ignored it.

By breakfast time Monday, Trifari had slain his father Maxim and mother Maria, both about 60, and Maxim Jr., 28, and Olga, 36.

John Gawler, chief of Monmouth County detectives, said there would be no arraignment of Trifari, but there may be a trial at a later date if Trifari recovers.

FRIENDS GAVE TO MICHENER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Donations from literary and entertainment figures and from supporters in more than 10 states helped swell to $37,253 the campaign contributions received by author James A. Michener in his unsuccessful quest for a House seat.

Michener, a Democrat, lost to Republican incumbent Willard S. Curtin in Pennsylvania's 8th Congressional District election Nov. 6. Michener has since reported to the House clerk that he turned over all the contributions to the Michener for Congress Committee.

At the same time, he reported spending another $1,200 in expenses not required to be itemized, such as meals and hotel rooms.

Curtin, a former Bucks County district attorney, who won a fourth term in the House, reported total campaign contributions of $3,101, itemized expenditures of $4,363, and nonitemized expenditures of $1,194.

Contributions to Michener's campaign came from such diverse figures as Richardson Dilworth, the unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, $2,000, and Bennett Cerf, Red Buttons and Bill Rose, all of New York City, $100 each.

A number of small contributors were listed from Hawaii, the subject of one of Michener's most recent best-selling books.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican National Committee plans to ask the radio and television networks for a "comparable" form to offset President Kennedy's national rocking chair interview.

But whom the Republicans would put on the airways to speak for the GOP—assuming the forum is granted—is uncertain.

The Republican most frequently mentioned by members of his party is former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. But Eisenhower worked hard for the GOP in the recent campaign, and there is some reluctance to ask him to assume a big new task.

Republican reaction to Kennedy's taped Monday night radio and television interview perhaps is best summarized by Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Ohio, a veteran of 24 years in Congress.

"It was the cleverest piece of political public relations I have ever seen," Brown said. "The President handled himself very ably."

However, Brown added, "Many of the President's statements could be subject to further discussion."

The Republican National Committee laid the groundwork for a comparable forum with a statement issued Tuesday by its public relations director, William B. Sprague Jr.

A formal demand for "equal time" might raise legal issues because federal law requires this only in the case of political candidates. Officially, at least, Kennedy was speaking as chief executive. He has not announced his 1964 candidacy, although no one doubts he will run again.

Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, said that if the GOP is given time to answer Kennedy, Eisenhower and Rep. William E. Miller, R-N.Y., should be presented.

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Some 12,000 to 14,000 new long-playing phonograph recordings are turned out each year in America.

"But only about 500 make any real money," said Enoch Light, the musical millionaire.

LEFT COLLEGE

A placid-looking, pipe-smoking man of middle age, Light has led a spectacular roller-coaster career in a business in which the unofficial slogan is: "Hold on to your hat at all times."

At 19 he left college to become the pit conductor for a Broadway show in 1926.

By 1940 he had become known as the "Ambassador of Jazz" in Europe, and he was leader of one of the big bands.

Then he was involved in an automobile accident that laid him up for a year and a half.

FOUNDED OWN FIRM

"When I finally recovered I found that the parade had passed me by. The heyday of the big bands was drawing to a close, and I realized I had to try something new."

Enoch entered the recording field and learned the business from the ground up.

There followed 10 lean, arduous years, then in 1954 Light founded his own firm, and in 1959 sold it for more than $2 million to ABC-Paramount, which retained him as directing head.

"PRETTY CRAZY"

"It's all pretty crazy, isn't it?" he asked quietly, puffing on his pipe.

After my accident came the desperate days—week after week when I earned nothing. From the time I was 35 until I was 44 I was in danger of starving.

"Then, in another five years or so, I was a millionaire. It is crazy!"

"But once you go through a bad period in life you never get over the fear. Today I still can't bear to waste money or food."

DEFINES SUCCESS

Light now feels his years of ordeal were well worth all the personal hardship he endured.

"They taught me to work hard and to respect work," he said.

"Success isn't a matter of being cute or clever. It's a matter of worry, integrity, responsibility and doing your very best. It sounds corny, but it's true."

"The only secret lies in believing in what you are trying to do, and then putting more time and effort into doing it than the other fellow does."

GOP WILL ASK TIME TO OFFSET JFK TV SPEECH

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican National Committee plans to ask the radio and television networks for a "comparable" form to offset President Kennedy's national rocking chair interview.

MR. MAGOO AS SCROOGE IS NEW CLASSIC

NEW YORK (AP)—If the ghost of Charles Dickens was watching television Tuesday night, it would have been interesting to catch the Victorian author's reaction to NBC's cartoon treatment of his sentimental "Christmas Carol" classic. It might have been choleric.

But most of us contemporary viewers must have felt that casting near-sighted, bulb-snatching Mr. Magoo as miserly, crotchety Ebenezer Scrooge was sheer inspiration. Converting the rather syrupy Tiny Tim tale into a fairy story with a musical comedy background proved a wonderful idea.

Children of all ages had a delightful time with the sly, tuneful animation. Lovable Mr. Magoo as an actor playing a part told even the smallest viewer that it was all let's pretend, so those ghosts, skeletons and graveyards were merely delightfully scary.

The hour-long version ought to have its place on NBC's shelf of classics, along with "Peter Pan," and "Amahl and the Night Visitors," ready for an annual Christmas-time rerun.

MEMORABLE HORN

President John F. Kennedy's "conversation" Monday night with three network correspondents was a memorable, impressive hour. Not only was it an important person-to-person updating on matters of vital concern to all, but it provided millions of average citizens, in their own homes, a chance to feel close to the man who must make many critical decisions on their behalf.

It was a wonderful thing for the nation when, in the depression-wracked thirties, Franklin D. Roosevelt used the medium of radio for his informal fireside talks.

Now President Kennedy has an even more intimate, powerful means to reach the nation. He sat easily, comfortably, in his rocking chair, handling all questions crisply, concisely and without pulling any punches.

CBS plans to switch two of its day shows around on Dec. 31—moving "To Tell the Truth" to 3 p.m. and its re-runs of "The Millionaire" to the following spot in an effort to strengthen its programming.

Schweitzer Wants U.S. To Pull Out

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Dr. Albert Schweitzer has called for the United Nations to pull its troops out of Katanga and for the United States to keep hands off.

The 87-year-old medical missionary, philosopher and author, who has spent nearly half a century in equatorial Africa, said Katanga is and should remain independent of the rest of the former Belgian Congo.

He declared reason and justice demand an immediate troop withdrawal and international acknowledgment of the independence of President Moïse Tshombe's copper-rich secessionist Katanga Province.

Schweitzer disclosed his views in a statement published by a liberal Brussels paper, La Democrite Heure.

Doris Day Shares Sour Apple Award

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Doris Day and Warren Beatty had the doubtful distinction today of being tabbed Hollywood's most uncooperative acting pair in 1962.

They were named winners of the Hollywood women's press club's sour apple awards Tuesday.

"Impossible!"

"Crookshank," repeated Santa.

"He has schemed and worked to prevent your getting an award from the Queen. Since you fixed up so fine a zoo he wants it back and he's determined you shall not be able to pay him off today. And he's not done yet. Since the flood has been stopped he will think of something else. Wait and see."

"Oh, dear," moaned Mr. Shnoo in despair. "What shall I do?"

"Face him with the charge at once," advised Santa. "I think you have not a moment to lose."

"But I must clean up the zoo!"

"Everything is turned about and heaven knows what the Queen will think!"

"Do that later," said Santa.

"Crookshank comes first!"

"I suppose you're right," said Mr. Shnoo.

He borrowed a plank from one of the water men and he sat on one end and Santa sat on the other end and off they paddled to hunt for Crookshank.

They had gone only a few yards when they heard from far off a hullabaloo of automobile horns honking and bells ringing. The din came closer and closer until it stopped at the gate of the zoo and there came a great fanfare of trumpets and the rolling tattoo of drums.

"Good heavens!" cried Mr.

"I wish to sponsor a well cared for zoo," said the Queen.

Shnoo "It's the Queen!"

He paddled furiously until the water was too shallow to hold the plank. Then he and Santa jumped off and rushed to the gates of the zoo. There sat the Queen, all regal and stiff, in a fine open carriage surrounded by guards dressed in purple and ermine.

"Your Highness," said Mr. Shnoo, bending low. "Welcome to Shnoo's Zoo."

The Queen gazed at him in astonishment. His clothes were soiled and his face was covered with dirt. Behind him stood Santa and the two of them together looked like mud pies set out to dry.

The Queen stepped down from the carriage, wincing a little as her heel sank into mud.

"Mr. Shnoo?" she said uncertainly.

"Mr. Shnoo bowed again. "The same," he muttered unhappily.

"As you know," said the Queen,

"I wish to sponsor a happy and well cared for zoo. I also wish to award the owner 1,000 pieces of gold. I have visited all the zoos in the land. I have saved your zoo for last because I have heard such wonderful reports about how beautifully you keep it and how tenderly you treat the animals."

"I must say," she added looking about her. "It seems rather muddy and unkempt out here but I know inside the gates it will be different."

"Eh — yes, Your Majesty — eh — very different!" stammered Mr. Shnoo miserably and bowing low he led her into the zoo.

Tomorrow: Merry Christmas to All.

INSANE KILLER HOSPITALIZED

FREEHOLD, N.J. (AP) — Gabriel Richard Trifari, confessed slayer of four members of his family, has been taken to the state hospital in Trenton for treatment of a mental condition.

Trifari, 26, of Howell Township, was judged mentally incompetent Tuesday by a psychiatrist who said the chicken farmer suffers from an "acute schizophrenic reaction."

On Monday night Trifari told police he had killed his parents, his sister and his brother with a crowbar at their farm because God told him his family was bad.

Dr. John P. Mohair, a Freehold psychiatrist, said after examining the man in the county jail here that the family either had ignored it.

By breakfast time Monday, Trifari had slain his father Maxim and mother Maria, both about 60, and Maxim Jr., 28, and Olga, 36.

John Gawler, chief of Monmouth County detectives, said there would be no arraignment of Trifari, but there may be a trial at a later date if Trifari recovers.

FRIENDS GAVE TO MICHENER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Donations from literary and entertainment figures and from supporters in more than 10 states helped swell to $37,253 the campaign contributions received by author James A. Michener in his unsuccessful quest for a House seat.

Michener, a Democrat, lost to Republican incumbent Willard S. Curtin in Pennsylvania's 8th Congressional District election Nov. 6. Michener has since reported to the House clerk that he turned over all the contributions to the Michener for Congress Committee.

At the same time, he reported spending another $1,200 in expenses not required to be itemized, such as meals and hotel rooms.

Curtin, a former Bucks County district attorney, who won a fourth term in the House, reported total campaign contributions of $3,101, itemized expenditures of $4,363, and nonitemized expenditures of $1,194.

Contributions to Michener's campaign came from such diverse figures as Richardson Dilworth, the unsuccessful Democratic candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, $2,000, and Bennett Cerf, Red Buttons and Bill Rose, all of New York City, $100 each.

62 Americans Are Ordained In Rome

ROME (AP)—Archbishop Martin J. O'Connor, rector of the Pontifical North American College, today ordained 62 young Americans, including five Pennsylvanians, in the Roman Catholic priesthood.

A thousand guests attended the ordination ceremony in the Church of Christ the King. Many were relatives and friends of the young priests who came from the United States for the ceremony.

Thursday the new priests will offer their first masses in various Roman churches. They will continue their theological studies in Rome until June, then return to the United States for assignments in their dioceses.

GOP WILL ASK TIME TO OFFSET JFK TV SPEECH

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican National Committee plans to ask the radio and television networks for a "comparable" form to offset President Kennedy's national rocking chair interview.

But whom the Republicans would put on the airways to speak for the GOP—assuming the forum is granted—is uncertain.

The Republican most frequently mentioned by members of his party is former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. But Eisenhower worked hard for the GOP in the recent campaign, and there is some reluctance to ask him to assume a big new task.

Republican reaction to Kennedy's taped Monday night radio and television interview perhaps is best summarized by Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Ohio, a veteran of 24 years in Congress.

"It was the cleverest piece of political public relations I have ever seen," Brown said. "The President handled himself very ably."

However, Brown added, "Many of the President's statements could be subject to further discussion."

The Republican National Committee laid the groundwork for a comparable forum with a statement issued Tuesday by its public relations director, William B. Sprague Jr.

A formal demand for "equal time" might raise legal issues because federal law requires this only in the case of political candidates. Officially, at least, Kennedy was speaking as chief executive. He has not announced his 1964 candidacy, although no one doubts he will run again.

Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, said that if the GOP is given time to answer Kennedy, Eisenhower and Rep. William E. Miller, R-N.Y., should be presented.

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Some 12,000 to 14,000 new long-playing phonograph recordings are turned out each year in America.

"But only about 500 make any real money," said Enoch Light, the musical millionaire.

A placid-looking, pipe-smoking man of middle age, Light has led a spectacular roller-coaster career in a business in which the unofficial slogan is: "Hold on to your hat at all times."

At 19 he left college to become the pit conductor for a Broadway show in 1926.

By 1940 he had become known as the "Ambassador of Jazz" in Europe, and he was leader of one of the big bands.

Then he was involved in an automobile accident that laid him up for a year and a half.

FOUNDED OWN FIRM

"When I finally recovered I found that the parade had passed me by. The heyday of the big bands was drawing to a close, and I realized I had to try something new."

Enoch entered the recording field and learned the business from the ground up.

There followed 10 lean, arduous years, then in 1954 Light founded his own firm, and in 1959 sold it for more than $2 million to ABC-Paramount, which retained him as directing head.

"PRETTY CRAZY"

"It's all pretty crazy, isn't it?" he asked quietly, puffing on his pipe.

After my accident came the desperate days—week after week when I earned nothing. From the time I was 35 until I was 44 I was in danger of starving.

"Then, in another five years or so, I was a millionaire. It is crazy!"

"But once you go through a bad period in life you never get over the fear. Today I still can't bear to waste money or food."

DEFINES SUCCESS

Light now feels his years of ordeal were well worth all the personal hardship he endured.

"They taught me to work hard and to respect work," he said. "Success isn't a matter of being cute or clever. It's a matter of worry, integrity, responsibility and doing your very best. It sounds corny, but it's true."

didate for governor of Pennsylvania, $2,000, and Bennett Cerf, Red Buttons and Bill Rose, all of New York City, $100 each.

A number of small contributors were listed from Hawaii, the subject of one of Michener's most recent best-selling books.

Miss Jeanne Kay Drake, a 1962 graduate of Bermudian Springs Jointure, York Springs, was elected treasurer of her freshman class at York Junior College where she is enrolled as a medical technology major. She is also a pledged member of Lambda Sigma Chi, a social and service sorority, and a member of the Footlighters, a drama club.

After two years at York Junior College she plans another year of college and a year internship, in order to become a medical technician.

MR. MAGOO AS SCROOGE IS NEW CLASSIC

NEW YORK (AP)—If the ghost of Charles Dickens was watching television Tuesday night, it would have been interesting to catch the Victorian author's reaction to NBC's cartoon treatment of his sentimental "Christmas Carol" classic. It might have been choleric. But most of us contemporary viewers must have felt that casting near-sighted, bulb-snatching Mr. Magoo as miserly, crotchety Ebenezer Scrooge was sheer inspiration. Converting the rather syrupy Tiny Tim tale into a fairy story with a musical comedy background proved a wonderful idea.

Children of all ages had a delightful time with the sly, tuneful animation. Lovable Mr. Magoo as an actor playing a part told even the smallest viewer that it was all let's pretend, so those ghosts, skeletons and graveyards were merely delightfully scary. The hour-long version ought to have its place on NBC's shelf of classics, along with "Peter Pan," and "Amahl and the Night Visitors," ready for an annual Christmas-time rerun.

MEMORABLE HORN

President John F. Kennedy's "conversation" Monday night with three network correspondents was a memorable, impressive hour. Not only was it an important person-to-person updating on matters of vital concern to all, but it provided millions of average citizens, in their own homes, a chance to feel close to the man who must make many critical decisions on their behalf.

It was a wonderful thing for the nation when, in the depression-ravaged thirties, Franklin D. Roosevelt used the medium of radio for his informal fireside talks.

Now President Kennedy has an even more intimate, powerful means to reach the nation. He sat easily, comfortably, in his rocking chair, handling all questions crisply, concisely and without pulling any punches.

CBS plans to switch two of its day shows around on Dec. 31—moving "To Tell the Truth" to 3 p.m. and its re-runs of "The Millionaire" to the following spot in an effort to strengthen its programming.

Schweitzer Wants U.S. To Pull Out

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Dr. Albert Schweitzer has called for the United Nations to pull its troops out of Katanga and for the United States to keep hands off.

The 87-year-old medical missionary, philosopher and author, who has spent nearly half a century in equatorial Africa, said Katanga is and should remain independent of the rest of the former Belgian Congo.

He declared reason and justice demand an immediate troop withdrawal and international acknowledgment of the independence of President Moise Tshombe's copper-rich secessionist Katanga Province.

Schweitzer disclosed his views in a statement published by a liberal Brussels paper, La Dénée Heure.

Doris Day Shares Sour Apple Award

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Doris Day and Warren Beatty had the doubtful distinction today of being tabbed Hollywood's most uncooperative acting pair in 1962.

They were named winners of the Hollywood women's press club's sour apple awards Tuesday.

Last Of Three Dr. Dooley Hospitals In Laos Clings To Life Without A Medic

By ANTOINE YARED
BAN HOUET SAI, Laos (AP)—The last of the late Dr. Thomas Dooley's hospitals in Laos survives in this sleepy little Mekong River town—handicapped by the lack of a doctor and the nearness of unfriendly territory.

Three young Americans are carrying on the work of the jungle doctor who died of cancer in January 1961 after founding small hospitals in this underdeveloped Southeast Asian kingdom.

Dooley's death and world politics may have combined to bring about a decline in the kind of medical missionary work once practiced here.

Of the three hospitals Dooley started in Laos, only this one survived the two-year civil war that raked the kingdom as leftist, rightist and neutralist factions vied for power.

Even Ban Houet Sai is doing its work on a shoestring.

The last doctor left in October; another may come next summer. Miss Zola A. Watson of Portland, Ore., is director of nurses in the Dooley Foundation which runs the hospital.

"This is not an ideal setup until we get a doctor," she says.

Miss Watson's companions are Tim Ford, a 21-year-old former Army medic from Indianapolis, Ind., and Reginald F. Gordon, 25, a surgical technician from Schenectady, N. Y.

EXPECT DOCTORS
Miss Watson says several physicians have indicated they want to work in this remote corner of Laos after finishing their post-graduate studies next June.

About a dozen Laotians call at the clinic every day on an out-patient basis. An average of five to nine patients lie in the cramped hospital ward.

Treatment in most cases is for malaria and malnutrition. Difficult cases are sent to Chiangrai, across the river in Thailand.

The hospital consists of a wooden building—set on stilts in South-east Asian style—nestled amidst trees on the top of a hill that overlooks the glistening river, at this point the border with Thailand.

Field operations are limited to an 18-mile radius. Outside that area lies territory controlled by the pro-Communist Pathet Lao. The Americans have been advised by right-wing garrison commanders here to stay out of the Communist zone.

ONE SURVIVORS
The closing campaign hours were marked Wednesday night by a brief outbreak of rioting in the capital. Riot police quickly restored order after three persons were injured by rocks.

Young agitators from the 14th of June Movement, a pro-Castro group, were in the middle of the rock-throwing, pistol-firing melee with followers of the conservative National Civic Union.

Dr. Viriato A. Fiallo, 67, of the Civic Union, and Juan Bosch, 53, of the left-of-center Dominican Revolutionary party, were leading candidates for president in a five-man contest.

BOSCH FAVORITE
Bosch was a narrow favorite. The chief question was whether his peasant followers had remained in his camp after a Jesuit priest made and retracted the charge that the party is Communist. Bosch dropped demands for a postponement of the election when the charge was withdrawn.

The voters also balloted for a vice president, a Congress of 74 deputies and 26 senators, and local and city officials.

The Congress will draft a new constitution.

Freed of dictatorship by the assassination of Rafael Trujillo in May 1961, 800,000 to 1,000,000 Dominicans, from 18 years up, were eligible to vote. Illiterates make up about 50 per cent of the population.

RIOTS QUELLED IN DOMINICAN FREE ELECTION

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ
SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Dominicans voted today in their first free general elections in 38 years. Most of them hoped the result, expected to be known by Christmas Eve, would mean stable representative government after long years of dictatorship.

The closing campaign hours were marked Wednesday night by a brief outbreak of rioting in the capital. Riot police quickly restored order after three persons were injured by rocks.

Higher food bills are in prospect as a result of the recent freeze disaster in Florida. Yes, the difference between a condition of plentiful supplies and one of scarcity is often just a few degrees on the thermometer, observes Tom Piper, Penn State Extension Marketing Agent.

If you've been concerned about the surpluses in agriculture, note what happens when we experience scarcity. Prices on citrus fruit have practically doubled in the past week and supplies of most items will be scarce for the remainder of the season.

Fresh vegetable prices will be higher too as many tender crops were killed or severely damaged by low temperatures.

An embargo currently in effect will restrict all further shipments of citrus from Florida until December 23. Wholesalers predict there will be no further shipments of tangerines and that grapefruit supplies will be greatly reduced. Higher prices are anticipated for California navel oranges and the few Temple oranges and tangerines which survived the Florida freeze. Apples, pears, grapes and bananas will receive more attention at the fruit counter and increased demand will undoubtedly influence prices.

Higher prices are in prospect for fresh vegetables, including peppers, beans, onion, escarole, radishes, tomatoes and squash. Celery and cabbage prices have also advanced in anticipation of damage to the Florida crop. Lettuce supplies are ample from Western growing areas and prices slightly higher than a week ago.

Turkeys should be featured at near the same levels as prevailed six Wayne and Pike County communities.

Owners of the firm said they were unable to estimate the loss immediately, but declared it was extensive.

POWELL HAS BACK CANCER

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor-producer Dick Powell is in severe pain from a cancer that apparently has spread to his lower back, his physician says.

Dr. John C. Sharpe said Tuesday that Powell, 37, is under almost continuous sedation.

Dr. Sharpe said the malignancy, although not detectable by X-ray, apparently has spread to Powell's lower back.

The physician said cobalt treatments have practically cleared up cancer in Powell's lymph glands and upper right chest cavity, where it was first discovered.

Powell entered a hospital Nov. 27, for treatment of what was then believed to be a muscle spasm resulting from a heavy cold.

Powell revealed last October that he was suffering from cancer.

Mother Kidnaps Man For Daughter

PALERMO, Sicily (AP)—Police say Anna Cardella, 40, considered Salvatore Sammarco a likely husband for her daughter Anna.

Mrs. Cardella invited the 12-year-old boy to her home, then locked him in a room with her 20-year-old daughter for four days. She served them meals regularly.

Salvatore's parents notified the police when he didn't come home. The police located him and are now holding Mrs. Cardella and her daughter on a kidnapping charge.

Fire Destroys Lumber Offices

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—A fire Tuesday night destroyed the office and a display building of Gumble Bros., Inc., lumber yard at Lake Wallenpaupack. The two buildings were leveled despite efforts of 60 volunteer firemen from for Thanksgiving but with larger size birds lower in price per pound. The larger size bird also yields more edible meat per pound which makes them by far the more economical choice. Hams of various forms will be featured at reasonable prices during the holidays. Geese, ducks and fryer chickens are attractively priced. Christmas trees, often available near the foodmarket, are in abundance with all shapes, sizes and varieties being offered for sale. Prices will average slightly below last year, although "you get only what you pay for." And if you are running out of ideas for Christmas gifts, don't overlook the possibility of a gift of food. Many such items can be attractively packaged and a pleasure to receive.

SAFETY RULES ARE LISTED FOR XMAS HAZARDS

HARRISBURG — Traditional Christmas customs—trees, colored lights, decorations—are fire hazards, the Pennsylvania Department of Health said today.

Richard Brose, chief of the department's Accident Prevention Section, suggested these rules for a fire-safe Christmas at home:

TREES: A natural tree, such as fir, spruce or pine, should be firm needed, fresh looking and no bigger than needed, since the larger the tree the greater the hazard. The tree should stand in water from the time it is brought into the house until it is discarded; and it should be well supported so that it will not topple over.

SHOULD BE TESTED

Trees should be located away from radiators and fireplaces and should never be placed where they might block escape in case of fire. They should be removed from the home soon after Christmas.

Brose stressed that complete reliance should not be placed on chemical coatings or solutions to "flame proof" natural trees. Metal trees will not burn. Since plastic and metalized plastic trees will burn, only those clearly marked as slow-burning materials should be used. Those with built-in electrical systems should carry the "Underwriters' Laboratories (UL) label to show that they have been tested for electrical safety.

LIGHTS: Lighting sets should be checked for frayed wires, loose connections and broken sockets. It is important that decorative lights be turned off before family members retire or leave the house. Only "outdoor" lights should be used outdoors. Power should be shut off when lights are being installed or adjusted to prevent electrical shock. Wax candles should never be used on or near trees.

OTHER PRECAUTIONS

DECORATIONS: The safety-conscious family uses noncombustible decorating materials (metal, glass, asbestos) whenever possible. Combustible materials such as flocking should be "flame proofed." Polystyrene foam for candle holders or for table or mantle decorations should be used where wax candles are some of the letters John Marshall wrote to his wife, Mary, during their 34 years of marriage, and a collection of Christmas experiences of Tolliver Chew III and his contemporaries.

Christmas

Chew "looks back fondly to the occasions when we met the Peterskins, Jim Hawkins and other treasured, lifelong friends."

Henry Van Dyke does an interesting piece on "Fact and Mystery of the Magi" in which he tells of "how the legends of three Kings of Orient entered the wondrous Christmas story."

RIDDLES AND RHYMES

Readers will also find "Miracles You Can See," a truly "heavenly-created flowers" that blossom in Christmas skies.

Another feature is the "Riddles and Rhymes" for youngsters to color and enjoy.

There will be a reproduction of famous art which show details from such masterpieces as the Journey of the Magi and the Adoration of the Magi by Giorgione and an unknown artist.

A Christmas treat for all the family, the Christmas Story Book is a sparkling supplement of Christmas reverence, cheer, fiction, fact and fancy—something of Christmas value and verve for everyone in the family—all in a big bright supplement in The Times Saturday.

BONNEAUVILLE WITHOUT SEC.

The Bonneauville borough council Tuesday evening decided to postpone for another month its selection of a new secretary.

Council was told that Tax Collector Philip Little said he would take the position "if no one else wants it." Solicitor Eugene R. Hartman said he saw no possible conflict of interest between the two jobs.

Council has been without a secretary the past two months following the resignation of Mrs. Mary Ann Gardner.

Written applications will be received by President Vincent Staub until the next meeting January 22 at 8 p.m. and the applicants, if possible are requested to be present at the meeting.

Council decided to repair certain alleys "so the school children will not have to walk in mud up to their ankles." The highway committee also recommended that a survey be made of the streets in connection with the sewer project and that the streets approved for repair be fixed.

It was reported that the municipal authority has sent in its application for a loan to initiate pre-also used.

WRAPPINGS: The smart family will dispose of gift wrappings promptly.

Brose added that particular attention should be given to smoking habits, since a lighted cigarette or match can start a tree burning.

Perhaps most important of all, he stressed, the family should plan in advance escape routes and other emergency actions needed for the safety of the family in case of fire.

LHS Students Playing Santa

The students of the Industrial Arts Departments and the Home Economics Department of the Littlestown High School have combined their talents to make Christmas season happier for the less fortunate youngsters. Members of the student body brought broken and unused toys to the school and the students of these two departments, under the direction of their teachers, Gordon Warner and Mrs. Virginia Sheeley, cleaned, repaired and refinished the toys. In the case of the Home Ec Department, approximately two dozen dolls were redressed.

The picture shows the boys in shop working on the toys which will be taken to the Hoffman Home on Friday and distributed to less fortunate families in the community and vicinity.

Assisting with the project were the following boys: Donald Bair, Ronald Benner, Edward Bless, Kenneth Bollinger, Arthur Byers, David Herring, James Hilker, William Houston, David Lockner, Raymond Mikesell, Melvin Miller, Earl Strausbaugh, Steven Study, Keith Waltman, Fred Leister, Spencer Reaver, Francis Redding, Timothy Reinaman, Larry Shuchart, Ronald Sellman, Elmer Shildt, Glenn Smith, Gary Walters, Thomas Applier, Fred Blocher, Joe Boyd, Kenneth Conover, Michael Cutsail, Buddy Ecker, Wayne Good, Charles Hahn, Wesley Haines, Burnell Hilker, Dwight Strevig and William Woodward.

Home ec girls who worked on the dolls were Sandra Albin, Sally Bigelow, Deanna DeGroot, Ellen Miller, Patricia Smiley, Patsy Berwager, Susan Collins, Susi Furrow, Yada Gregg, Nancy Hilker, Carolyn Morgret, Joyce Reaver, Luanna Rippeon, Marianne Rudisill, Barbara Simpson, Shirley Shoemaker, Marian Sterner, Carol Weaver, Carolyn Davis, Beverly King, Judy Knight, Darlene Lowe, Mary Law, Hisako Ogasa, Geraldine Shuchart and Doris Weidner.

Littlestown

TOWN COUNCIL OFFERS STREET IMPROVEMENT

Littlestown borough council, at its meeting Tuesday night, indicated that, if residents of the unimproved areas of Talbot St. and Lumber St., Littlestown, construct sidewalks and curbs, the town will improve the streets. At the same time the council indicated that, if the curbs and sidewalks are not installed, the streets will be "only made passable."

Council adopted an ordinance providing for widening of M. St. to the rear of the St. Aloysius Church by three feet. The action provided for a four-foot sidewalk in that area as compared to five-foot sidewalks elsewhere in the town. Council agreed to the exception since the prior ordinance had originally called for a four-foot sidewalk in that area and the narrower sidewalk will permit widening the street a full three feet as planned when the church was asked to give the borough a deed to an additional three feet of land along its boundary.

Council at the same time disapproved a permit for a new gasoline service station to be leased to the Shell Oil Co. on N. Queen St. between Banker's Restaurant and the Super Thrift Market. The plans submitted called for a four-foot sidewalk. The disapproval will permit council time to discuss the possibility of increasing the width of the sidewalk and permit ordinance of the section of the street by the council.

NO REPLY TO REQUEST

Secretary Roger J. Keefe read to council a letter he had written the real estate department of the A. S. Beck Co., N. Y., asking rights of way for proposed extensions of Maple Ave. and Windsor St. and reported he had so far received no reply.

At the request of James Reaver and John A. Guise council agreed to change the "no parking" regulation in the alley adjacent to Zerfing's Hardware Store, S. Queen St., to "no parking—loading and unloading only." The police department, safety committee and owners are to decide the site for the "unloading zone" signs.

A letter was read from Albright and Friel, consulting engineers for the town's sewer and water systems concerning methods of removing scum accumulation in the sewage treatment plant digester. The letter, written in preliminary work for the sewer project.

TREASURER REPORTS

Council commended Hartlaub's Used Auto Parts for cleaning up the area along the main street.

Treasurer Eugene R. Long reported $2,025 in the general fund, $696 in the light fund and $671 in the highway fund. Bills totaling $327.61 were approved for payment. Council also received from Hartman a check for $4,639.13 from the Mt. Pleasant Township supervisors as the borough's share of the general fund matching fund, and the miscellaneous equipment fund.

Hal Roach Studio Auction Delayed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The postponed auction of the Hal Roach Studios faced another delay today caused by a Los Angeles County demand for back taxes. Representatives of the Scranton Corp. of Pennsylvania were holding the auction in federal court Wednesday when the county filed its motion, forcing postponement until a separate hearing can be held. Bidding had reached $1.2 million when it was halted. A lack of bids forced the auction to be transferred to California.

100 years ago the average American could expect to live about 40 years. Today—about 70. Modern sanitation, diet, drugs and medical practice have added 30 years to our life span. And note that 70 is average. Many die sooner. Many live longer. You up your chances of being a "longer" if you eat properly and get proper medical care. This means periodic check-ups by your physician. As pharmacists we are pleased to help by supplying the drugs your doctor prescribes—drugs unknown a century ago. We're so conscious of the effectiveness of modern medicine that we're shooting for a life span of 100 years.

SAFETY RULES ARE LISTED FOR XMAS HAZARDS

HARRISBURG — Traditional Christmas customs—trees, colored lights, decorations—are fire hazards, the Pennsylvania Department of Health said today.

Richard Brose, chief of the department's Accident Prevention Section, suggested these rules for a fire-safe Christmas at home:

TREES: A natural tree, such as fir, spruce or pine, should be firm needed, fresh looking and no bigger than needed, since the larger the tree the greater the hazard. The tree should stand in water from the time it is brought into the house until it is discarded; and it should be well supported so that it will not topple over.

SHOULD BE TESTED

Trees should be located away from radiators and fireplaces and should never be placed where they might block escape in case of fire. They should be removed from the home soon after Christmas.

Brose stressed that complete reliance should not be placed on chemical coatings or solutions to "flame proof" natural trees. Metal trees will not burn. Since plastic and metalized plastic trees will burn, only those clearly marked as slow-burning materials should be used. Those with built-in electrical systems should carry the Underwriters' Laboratories (UL) label to show that they have been tested for electrical safety.

LIGHTS: Lighting sets should be checked for frayed wires, loose connections and broken sockets. It is important that decorative lights be turned off before family members retire or leave the house. Only "outdoor" lights should be used outdoors. Power should be shut off when lights are being installed or adjusted to prevent electrical shock. Wax candles should never be used on or near trees.

OTHER PRECAUTIONS

DECORATIONS: The safety-conscious family uses noncombustible decorating materials (metal, glass, asbestos) whenever possible. Combustible materials such as flocking should be "flame proofed." Polystyrene foam for candle holders or for table or mantle decorations should be used where wax candles are

Some of the letters John Marshall wrote to his wife, Mary, during their 34 years of marriage, and a collection of Christmas experiences of Tolliver Chew III and his contemporaries.

Chew "looks back fondly to the occasions when we met the Peterkins, Jim Hawkins and other treasured, lifelong friends."

Henry Van Dyke does an interesting piece on "Fact and Mystery of the Magi" in which he tells on "how the legends of three Kings of Orient entered the wondrous Christmas story."

Juliet Shelby's article on "The Christmas Flower the Diplomat Found" is a story on "how the Latin-American 'Flower of the Holy Night' came to bloom each December in many lands." It is the story of the poinsettia, named after Joel R. Poinsett, a U.S. ambassador to Mexico, who first associated the brilliant flower with the Christmas season.

RIDDLES AND RHYMES

Readers will also find "Miracles You Can See," a truly "heavenly-created flowers that blossom in Christmas skies."

Another feature is the "Riddles and Rhymes" for youngsters to color and enjoy.

There will be a reproduction of famous art which show details from such masterpieces as the Journey of the Magi and the Adoration of the Magi by Giorgione and an unknown artist.

A Christmas treat for all the family, the Christmas Story Book is a sparkling supplement of Christmas reverence, cheer, fiction, fact and fancy—something of Christmas value and verve for everyone in the family—all in a big bright supplement in The Times Saturday.

THE EDITION WILL ALSO CONTAIN

BONNEAUVILLE WITHOUT SEC.

The Bonneauville borough council Tuesday evening decided to postpone for another month its selection of a new secretary.

Council was told that Tax Collector Philip Little said he would take the position "if no one else wants it." Solicitor Eugene R. Hartman said he saw no possible conflict of interest between the two jobs.

Council has been without a secretary the past two months following the resignation of Mrs. Mary Ann Gardner.

Written applications will be received by President Vincent Staub until the next meeting January 22 at 8 p.m. and the applicants, if possible are requested to be present at the meeting.

Council decided to repair certain alleys "so the school children will not have to walk in mud up to their ankles." The highway committee also recommended that a survey be made of the streets in connection with the sewer project and that the streets approved for repair be fixed.

It was reported that the municipal authority has sent in its application for a loan to initiate pre-

LHS Students Playing Santa

The students of the Industrial Arts Departments and the Home Economics Department of the Littlestown High School have combined their talents to make Christmas season happier for the less fortunate youngsters. Members of the student body brought broken and unused toys to the school and the students of these two departments, under the direction of their teachers, Gordon Warner and Mrs. Virginia Sheeley, cleaned, repaired and refinished the toys. In the case of the Home Ec Department, approximately two dozen dolls were redressed.

Littlestown borough council, at its meeting Tuesday night, indicated that, if residents of the unimproved areas of Talbot St. and Lumber St., Littlestown, construct sidewalks and curbs, the town will improve the streets. At the same time the council indicated that, if the curbs and sidewalks are not installed, the streets will be "only made passable."

Council adopted an ordinance providing for widening of M St. to the rear of the St. Aloysius Church by three feet. The action provided for a four-foot sidewalk in that area as compared to five-foot sidewalks elsewhere in the town. Council agreed to the exception since the prior ordinance had originally called for a four-foot sidewalk in that area and the narrower sidewalk will permit widening the street a full three feet as planned when the church was asked to give the borough a deed to an additional three feet of land along its boundary.

Council at the same time disapproved a permit for a new gasoline service station to be leased to the Shell Oil Co. on N. Queen St. between Banker's Restaurant and the Super Thrift Market. The plans submitted called for a four-foot sidewalk. The disapproval will permit council time to discuss the possibility of increasing the width of the sidewalk and permit ordination of the section of the street by the council.

NO REPLY TO REQUEST

Secretary Roger J. Keefer read to council a letter he had written the real estate department of the A. S. Beck Co., N. Y., asking rights of way for proposed extensions of Maple Ave. and Windsor St. and reported he had so far received no reply.

At the request of James Reaver and John A. Guise council agreed to change the "no parking" regulation in the alley adjacent to Zerfing's Hardware Store, S. Queen St., to "no parking—loading and unloading only." The police department, safety committee and owners are to decide the site for the "unloading zone" signs.

A letter was read from Albright and Frie, consulting engineers for the town's sewer and water systems concerning methods of removing scum accumulation in the sewage treatment plant digester. The letter, written in preliminary work for the sewer project.

TREASURER REPORTS

Council commended Hartlaub's Used Auto Parts for cleaning up the area along the main street.

Treasurer Eugene R. Long reported $2,025 in the general fund, $896 in the light fund and $671 in the highway fund. Bills totaling $327.61 were approved for payment. Council also received from Hartman a check for $4,639.13 from the Mt Pleasant Township supervisors as the borough's share of the general fund matching fund, and the miscellaneous equipment fund.

Lemmon's police report showed six speeding arrests, one reckless driving and two accidents investigated.

CLASS HOLDS XMAS PARTY

Mrs. Malcolm E. Hess, E. King St., was hostess to the Tuck-Bache Class of St. John's Lutheran Church for the December meeting and Christmas party on Tuesday evening. The program included group singing of carols; Christmas story read by Mrs. George Trump, class president; sentence prayers, opened by Mrs. Alvin J. Groft, and closed by Mrs. William J. Refreshments were served by the hostess and the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison. The class will meet again on Tuesday, January 22, at the church.

Future activities of Explorer Post 84 were discussed at a meeting Monday evening at the Community Center. There will be no meeting next Monday, Christmas Eve. The next activity will be the York-Adams Area Council Sno Ball on Friday, December 28, in the Yorktown Hotel. Hal Roach Studio Auction Delayed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The oft-postponed auction of the Hal Roach Studios faced another delay today caused by a Los Angeles County demand for back taxes. Representatives of the Scranton Corp. of Pennsylvania were holding the auction in federal court Wednesday when the county filed its motion, forcing postponement until a separate hearing can be held. Bidding had reached $1.2 million when it was halted. A lack of bids forced the auction to be transferred to California.

Newspaper Industry, Other Publishing Ventures Face Threat From Paper Strike

By DARDEN CHAMBLISS
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The future of the newspaper industry — and other publishing ventures — could be shaped by the outcome of the strike which has shut nine New York daily newspapers since Dec. 8.

The strike is being led by Local 6 of the International Typographical Union.

It has led to the belief in many quarters that the main goal of the strike is not just higher wages and other benefits but an effort by the ITU to make itself the dominant union in the rapidly changing newspaper industry.

For many years the ITU had this position, then lost it to the American Newspaper Guild — an organization of reporters, noncraft and clerical workers which the printers, by example and urging, had helped foster. In recent years it found itself following contract patterns set by the Guild.

WILL AFFECT INDUSTRY

If the strike is in fact a go-for-broke bid by the ITU, many publishers say it could tear the economic fabric of an industry which they claim is already under serious stress.

The possible industry-wide implications have drawn special attention to the strike, which, involving combined circulation of almost six million, is big enough in its own right.

The union struck the New York Times, the Daily News, the Journal-American and the World-Telegram & Sun. Then the Post, Mirror, Herald Tribune, Long Island Star-Journal and Long Island Press shut as members of the New York Publishers' Association. The Long Island Press is continuing to publish its Long Island editions.

20,000 ARE IDLE

Nearly 20,000 people are out of work, lost wages amount to about $3 million a week and lost revenue during the rich pre-Christmas advertising season, is estimated by the industry at $7 million a week. The antagonists in the dispute are resolute.

Bertram Powers, 40, with brushed, blond-gray hair, the president of Local 6, says, "We're in this thing all the way." Amory Bradford, 50, with salt-and-pepper hair and a hard-finished tweed suit, vice president of the Times and head of the publishers' negotiating committee, says, "We are within a very short step of our absolute limit."

FORMED GUILD

For a decade now in New York, the ITU has found itself treading the footsteps of a union it helped bring into being in the 1930s. ITU men had told reporters, clerical workers and other noncraft workers that they would have to organize if they hoped to get the kind of money and contract protections ITU men enjoyed.

They took the advice and formed the Guild. But in the early 1950s, in part because of an accident of the calendar, Guild rather than ITU contracts began to set the industry pattern.

The ITU, dating to the middle of the last century, grew restive. Votes on ratifying what ITU men termed carbon copy agreements melted until they were razor thin. Powers talked of a more militant effort, and members rallied around him.

SCOFF GUILD PAST

After he took over in 1961, he promised that things could be different. When the Guild agreed last month to a package increase of about $8-$9 per week per man was $22.60-$20.00.

over two years, and returned from a one-paper strike, the ITU warned it wouldn't be bound this time by that settlement.

When the clock ran out on negotiations, the ITU was asking $18.45 weekly in wage increases over the two years plus other benefits the publishers say would cost another $19 or more.

Industry observers, studying the size of the ITU demand and the mood in which it was presented, question whether this is merely a matter of a tactics problem in one city—as Powers says it is.

FOUGHT MACHINES

Is it instead, the observers ask, a far bigger issue with implications for every newspaper over the country employing union help?

The ITU has fought to control the use of type typesetting, in which perforated tape from a central point triggers linotype key-boards. The ITU also seeks to maintain control of processes that photographed copy, rather than metal type. This is called offset.

The publishers charge that protections against new processes all but wipe out savings. Unless money can be freed by such cost-cutting methods, these publishers say, there will be none to spread out as wage boosts. Competition from other media blocks higher advertising rates, they say.

And Bradford says that the ITU's printers have made fewer advances in output per manhour than any of the other nine unions on the Times.

If the ITU leadership and philosophy are embraced across the nation, publishers contend, many weak newspapers may be pushed into bankruptcy.

Powers, who lost a linotype job when the newspaper PM closed in the late 1940s, says he and his membership faced this possibility when they made their strike decision.

In any case, he said, "We can't take the position of being a partner to the sick papers and the antagonist to the rich ones."

REFUSE STAMP PLAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has rejected a plea by the Allegheny County commissioners that the federal food stamp plan be extended to areas outside Pittsburgh. Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman, in a letter released Wednesday, told the commissioners there was not enough money available for extension of the plan.

The biggest chunk of that $93 million total was provided by six fruit and vegetable processing plants in the county. Total value month to a package increase of about $8-$9 per week per man was $22.60-$20.00.

Newspaper Industry, Other Publishing Ventures Face Threat From Paper Strike

By DARDEN CHAMBLISS
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The future of the newspaper industry — and other publishing ventures — could be shaped by the outcome of the strike which has shut nine New York daily newspapers since Dec. 8.

The strike is being led by Local 6 of the International Typographical Union.

It has led to the belief in many quarters that the main goal of the strike is not just higher wages and other benefits but an effort by the ITU to make itself the dominant union in the rapidly changing newspaper industry.

For many years the ITU had this position, then lost it to the American Newspaper Guild — an organization of reporters, noncraft and clerical workers which the printers, by example and urging, had helped foster. In recent years it found itself following contract patterns set by the Guild.

WILL AFFECT INDUSTRY
If the strike is in fact a go-for-broke bid by the ITU, many publishers say it could tear the economic fabric of an industry which they claim is already under serious stress.

The possible industrywide implications have drawn special attention to the strike, which, involving combined circulation of almost six million, is big enough in its own right.

The union struck the New York Times, the Daily News, the Journal-American and the World-Telegram & Sun. Then the Post, Mirror, Herald Tribune, Long Island Star-Journal and Long Island press shut as members of the New York Publishers' Association. The Long Island Press is continuing to publish its Long Island editions.

20,000 ARE IDLE

Nearly 20,000 people are out of work, lost wages amount to about $3 million a week and lost revenue during the rich pre-Christmas advertising season, is estimated by the industry at $7 million a week.

The antagonists in the dispute are resolute.

Bertram Powers, 40, with brush-cropped, blond-gray hair, the president of Local 6, says, "We're in this thing all the way." Amory Bradford, 50, with salt-and-pepper hair and a hard-finished tweed suit, vice president of the Times and head of the publishers' negotiating committee, says, "We are within a very short step of our absolute limit."

FORMED GUILD

For a decade now in New York, the ITU has found itself treading the footsteps of a union it helped bring into being in the 1930s. ITU men had told reporters, clerical workers and other noncraft workers that they would have to organize if they hoped to get the kind of money and contract protections ITU men enjoyed.

They took the advice and formed the Guild. But in the early 1950s, in part because of an accident of the calendar, Guild rather than ITU contracts began to set the industry pattern.

The ITU, dating to the middle of the last century, grew restive. Votes on ratifying what ITU men termed carbon copy agreements melted until they were razor thin. Powers talked of a more militant effort, and members rallied around him.

SCOFF GUILD PAST

After he took over in 1961, he promised that things could be different. When the Guild agreed last month to a package increase of about $8.59 per week per man was $23.69,000.

over two years, and returned from a one-paper strike, the ITU warned it wouldn't be bound this time by that settlement.

When the clock ran out on negotiations, the ITU was asking $18.45 weekly in wage increases over the two years plus other benefits the publishers say would cost another $19 or more.

Industry observers, studying the size of the ITU demand and the mood in which it was presented, question whether this is merely a matter of a tactics problem in one city—as Powers says it is.

FOUGHT MACHINES

Is it instead, the observers ask, a far bigger issue with implications for every newspaper over the country employing union help?

The ITU has fought to control the use of tape typesetting, in which perforated tape from a central point triggers linotype key-boards. The ITU also seeks to maintain control of processes that photographed copy, rather than metal type. This is called offset.

The publishers charge that protections against new processes all but wipe out savings. Unless money can be freed by such cost-cutting methods, these publishers say, there will be none to spread out as wage boosts. Competition from other media blocks higher advertising rates, they say.

And Bradford says that the ITU's printers have made fewer advances in output per manhour than any of the other nine unions on the Times.

If the ITU leadership and philosophy are embraced across the nation, publishers contend, many weak newspapers may be pushed into bankruptcy.

Powers, who lost a linotype job when the newspaper PM closed in the late 1940s, says he and his membership faced this possibility when they made their strike decision.

York Springs

MRS. F. E. COULSON
YORK SPRINGS — Mr. and Mrs. Lee McCauslin have returned from a visit to Florida. They will move December 31 from the Edgar Lear farm to a farm near Neville.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Nell have returned from a three-week visit to Florida where they visited Mr. Nell's brother and their nephew, Daniel Harlackner, and family, at Ft. Myers and Ft. Pierce.

William Feeley is a patient in the Carlisle Hospital.

Miss Kilja Choe, graduate school, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn., will arrive on Sunday to spend the holidays with Rev. and Mrs. Amos Meyers and family. She is a native of Korea and graduated from Gettysburg College.

REFUSE STAMP PLAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has rejected a plea by the Allegheny County commissioners that the federal food stamp plan be extended to areas outside Pittsburgh. Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman, in a letter released Wednesday, told the commissioners there was not enough money available for extension of the plan.

The biggest chunk of that $93 million total was provided by six fruit and vegetable processing plants in the county. Total value of the manufactured product there about $8.59 per week per man was $23.69,000.

A reception with 50 persons in attendance was held December 1 at the home of the bride's parents. The couple honeymooned in New York. The newlyweds are now residing in Silver Run.

Mrs. Boone is a 1962 graduate of Littlestown High School and is employed by the Littlestown Manufacturing Company. Her husband attended the Carroll County schools and is employed by B and P Woodworking and Finishing Co. and Sinclair Station, both in Silver Run.

MISS POWELL IN GLORIOUS COMEBACK; 50

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"It's not many performers who get a chance for the second time around. That's why I'm having the time of my life."

This was Eleanor Powell at 50 sitting on top of a whole new career. The night after Christmas she will make her television dancing debut with Perry Como. She is drawing top salaries in Las Vegas and other show spots. And she is planning a concert tour that will take her through the United States and Europe.

Not bad for a star who didn't dance for 14 years.

HAVE'N'T FORGOTTEN

"It's the greatest feeling in the world to be able to come back and find an audience still waiting," she said. "I thought they would have forgotten by now."

"But they haven't. They seem to have an emotional response to what I have done. When I finish my act and go around the tables shaking hands, many of them are crying. It's the same way with other performers who came back-stage to see me. Some of them are so emotional they can't speak."

"They seem to be glad that I made it back."

The Eleanor Powell story would indicate that stars never fade. Hailed as the greatest female tap dancer, she was a hit on Broadway and then starred in a string of glittering MGM musicals such as "Born to Dance," "Rosalie," "Lady Be Good" and the "Broadway Melodies" of 1936-38-40.

After the birth of their son, Peter, she worked only once — in 1947 to raise $30,000 for down payment on a house she and her husband, Glenn Ford, wanted to buy. She played six weeks at the London Palladium and in Scotland, then quit entirely.

Then two years ago her marriage broke up.

"It was Christmas time and I was pretty shaken up," she said. "Peter suggested that we get out of town for Christmas. He thought we might go up to Las Vegas."

They saw every show in town. At each show the stars introduced Eleanor from the audience as one of the show business greats. Pearl Bailey got her up onstage for a few taps. Later she told Peter that it was his duty to see that his mother returned to performing.

Edged on by her son, Eleanor underwent nine months of intensive tap and ballet lessons, dropped from 149 pounds to a svelte 122. When she returned to Las Vegas, she went in triumph.

"I'm dancing better than I ever did before," she says, and she intends to go on doing so.

CLING TO HOPE CUBANS WILL BE FREE BY XMAS

By GEORGE ARFELD

HAVANA (AP)—Hope mounted today that 1,113 Bay of Pigs prisoners may be freed from Fidel Castro's prisons by Christmas in exchange for U.S. food and medicines.

New York attorney James B. Donovan led a team of negotiators into a new round of talks with Castro Tuesday night.

Donovan, who arranged the trade of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers for Russian spy Rudolph Abel early this year, arrived Tuesday on a third trip to Havana in his effort to effect the release of the Cubans captured in the invasion of April 1961.

MEET WITH CASTRO

With him were Alvaro Sanchez and Mrs. Virginia Belancourt, officials of the Cuban Families Committee, composed of prisoners' relatives.

They went to the home of Mrs. Berta Barreto, another negotiator, and soon after Castro summoned them.

Mrs. Barreto said the prisoners may be freed soon — "God willing."

Sources close to the negotiators said the prisoners, if freed, probably will be flown to Miami in chartered planes.

Castro demanded $62 million for their liberty but agreed later to take food and medicine instead of cash.

SOME DETAILS

Havana relatives of the prisoners perked up on hearing reports from the United States of the shipment of tons of these supplies to Opa-Locka airfield near Miami.

The reports included these details:

Castro demanded $23 million worth of drugs, $6 million in equipment, $9.5 million in powdered milk and $14.5 million in

GEN. JANEWAY GIVEN MEDAL

HARRISBURG (AP) — Former Deputy Adjutant General Augustine S. Janeway has been awarded the Pennsylvania Meritorious Medal.

The presentation to the 77-year-old retired brigadier general was made Tuesday in Gov. Lawrence's office.

Janeway served as deputy adjutant general in Pennsylvania between 1935 and 1937.

He also was cited for outstanding service as chairman of the 1936 Flood Relief Committee, as executive director of the General State Authority from 1937 to 1939, and as a member of the Valley Forge Park Commission.

Janeway supplied long lists of the drugs wanted. This totals only $53 million at manufacturers' list prices, but Donovan said some time ago Castro could put his own value on the stocks.

It was understood the prisoners would be released on delivery of 20 per cent of the amount demanded and a pledge for the balance.

8 AIRLINES JOIN

The Air Transport Association, an organization of aviation executives, said eight domestic airlines were cooperating to transport 600,000 pounds of supplies to Florida at the request of the Red Cross.

Eight trucking firms were moving 420,000 pounds of supplies to Opa-Locka free of charge.

The 435-foot freighter African Pilot, loaned by the Farrell Lines to the Red Cross, was steaming to Port Everglades, Fla., to pick up the load if the exchange is completed. Fifteen shipping companies had combined to finance the water transportation.

Paul Willis, president of the Grocery Manufacturers Association, said his organization had taken charge of soliciting food from manufacturers and "the response has been very generous."

The Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association coordinated drug donations.

By JOY STILLEY

In aptly-named places all over the nation This season is filled with a special elation; In city and hamlet, the whole population Of Christmas-named towns has a real celebration.

Santa Claus, Indiana, is certainly jolly And so are the places that bear the name "Holly." Star Prairie, Wisconsin, is fitting, by golly, And in Belts, Tennessee, who could be melancholy?

In Bethlehems of several states The spirit of Christmas never abates,

And Noel, Missouri, surely creates An image of Yuletide which cheers and elates.

Arizona and Florida have Christmas all year And Hollidaysburg is full of good cheer; In Evergreen, North Carolina, it's clear The festival feeling always is near.

Angels Camp, California, is merry and bright And all of the Nazareths share the delight; From Star City, Starhill, Star and Starlight—"Merry Christmas to all and to all a good night."

WOMEN STEAL SPOTLIGHT IN CUBAN AFFAIRS

EDITOR'S NOTE — The writer of this article was an Associated Press correspondent in Havana for 29 months and was jailed there for three weeks under the Castro regime. He now is an AP roving correspondent in Latin America, and has been on special assignment in Key West.

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ — KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Under Castro automation, goes a Cuban witticism, the laboring man has been replaced—by women.

Cuban radio and television programs monitored here tend to accentuate that observation. Day in and out, the Cuban stations monotonously drone out the revolutionary achievements of "our women's brigades" and "our exemplary Cuban woman" toiling away "voluntarily" in coffee, cotton and sugar fields.

Starting next year some women will be carrying credentials as crew members on Cuban merchant ships.

ELECTRONIC PEEPHOLE

Men work, of course, and they get their share of accolades. But to hear Havana radio tell it, Cuban workers spend large portions of their time attending meetings to "discuss production goals" or study "cultural draft projects."

The radio-television broadcasts, easily seen and heard here, 93 miles from Havana, provide an excellent electronic peephole for a limited look at Cuba.

What is a radio-television view of Cuba like these days?

"WHERE'S FIDEL?"

To one who had a Havana ring-side seat on Castro and the post-revolution for 29 months, an immediate reaction is:

"Where is Fidel?"

Two years ago, it would have been rank heresy, if not counter-revolutionary, to leave Castro out of the picture if he were anywhere near a television program.

But that was done recently when President Osvaldo Dorticos spoke at a funeral service. Viewers got only the briefest look at Castro's back as he rushed away after the ceremony with only a brisk wave to Dorticos.

ORIGINALS EGED OUT

Two years ago, such an omission would have started speculation on Castro's health or his position in the hierarchy.

There are other signs the original revolutionaries are being edged from the spotlight by the new Marxist-Leninist set. There were no special radio or television programs to mark the anniversary of Castro's Dec. 2, 1956, invasion that led eventually to the overthrow of dictator Fulgencio Batista. Commentators handled the event in routine fashion, contrary to the hoopla of other years.

Anti-Americanism remains the big hard-sell item on both radio and television. Anti-Castro Cuban raiders are always identified as "brutal CIA agents." Cubans felled by counter-revolutionaries were victims of "Yankee imperialist agents."

NOTHING LEFT

The way it comes over radio and television now, the revolutionary many has a hollow mechanical ring, it lacks the old sound and fury of deep-down conviction.

Says a Cuban exile: "They're tired and, besides that, they've used up the entire dictionary of scurrilous abuse. There's really nothing left to say."

New York attorney James B. Donovan led a team of negotiators into a new round of talks with Castro Tuesday night.

Large stores of donated drugs and food were being assembled near Miami, Fla., in case the exchange goes through.

Donovan, who arranged the trade of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers for Russian spy Rudolph Abel early this year, arrived Tuesday on a third trip to Havana in his effort to effect the release of the Cubans captured in the invasion of April 1961.

MEET WITH CASTRO
With him were Alvaro Sanchez and Mrs. Virginia Betancourt, officials of the Cuban Families Committee, composed of prisoners' relatives.

They went to the home of Mrs. Berta Barreto, another negotiator and soon after Castro summoned them.

Mrs. Barreto said the prisoners may be freed soon — "God willing."

Sources close to the negotiators said the prisoners, if freed, probably will be flown to Miami in chartered planes.

Castro demanded $62 million for their liberty but agreed later to take food and medicine instead of cash.

SOME DETAILS
Havana relatives of the prisoners perked up on hearing reports from the United States of the shipment of tons of these supplies to Opa-Locka airfield near Miami.

The reports included these details: Castro demanded $23 million worth of drugs, $6 million in equipment, $9.5 million in powdered milk and $14.5 million in

GEN. JANEWAY GIVEN MEDAL

HARRISBURG (AP)—Former Deputy Adjutant General Augustine S. Janeway has been awarded the Pennsylvania Meritorious Medal.

The presentation to the 77-year-old retired brigadier general was made Tuesday in Gov. Lawrence's office.

Janeway served as deputy adjutant general in Pennsylvania between 1935 and 1937.

He also was cited for outstanding service as chairman of the 1936 Flood Relief Committee, as executive director of the General State Authority from 1937 to 1939, and as a member of the Valley Forge Park Commission.

Janeway supplied long lists of the drugs wanted. This totals only $33 million at manufacturers' list prices, but Donovan said some time ago Castro could put his own value on the stocks.

It was understood the prisoners would be released on delivery of 20 per cent of the amount demanded and a pledge for the balance.

8 AIRLINES JOIN

The Air Transport Association, an organization of aviation executives, said eight domestic airlines were cooperating to transport 600,000 pounds of supplies to Florida at the request of the Red Cross.

Eight trucking firms were moving 420,000 pounds of supplies to Opa-Locka free of charge.

The 435-foot freighter African Pilot, loaned by the Farrell Lines to the Red Cross, was steaming to Port Everglades, Fla., to pick up the load if the exchange is completed. Fifteen shipping companies had combined to finance the water transportation.

Paul Willis, president of the Grocery Manufacturers Association, said his organization had taken charge of soliciting food from manufacturers and "the response has been very generous."

The Pharmaceutical Manufacturers Association coordinated drug donations.

WOMEN STEAL SPOTLIGHT IN CUBAN AFFAIRS

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ
KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Under Castro automation, goes a Cuban witticism, the laboring man has been replaced—by women.

Cuban radio and television programs monitored here tend to accentuate that observation.

Day in and out, the Cuban stations monotonously drone out the revolutionary achievements of "our women's brigades" and "our exemplary Cuban woman" toiling away "voluntarily" in coffee, cotton and sugar fields.

Starting next year some women will be carrying credentials as crew members on Cuban merchant ships.

ELECTRONIC PEEPHOLE

Men work, of course, and they get their share of accolades. But to hear Havana radio tell it, Cuban workers spend large portions of their time attending meetings to "discuss production goals" or study "cultural draft projects."

The radio-television broadcasts, easily seen and heard here, 93 miles from Havana, provide an excellent electronic peephole for a limited look at Cuba.

What is a radio-television view of Cuba like these days?

"WHERE'S FIDEL?"
To one who had a Havana ring-side seat on Castro and the post-revolution for 29 months, an immediate reaction is:

"Where is Fidel?"
Two years ago, it would have been rank heresy, if not counter-revolutionary, to leave Castro out of the picture if he were anywhere near a television program.

But that was done recently when President Osvaldo Dorticos spoke at a funeral service. Viewers got only the briefest look at Castro's back as he rushed away after the ceremony with only a brisk wave to Dorticos.

ORIGINALS EDGED OUT

Two years ago, such an omission would have started speculation on Castro's health or his position in the hierarchy.

There are other signs the original revolutionaries are being edged from the spotlight by the new Marxist-Leninist set. There were no special radio or television programs to mark the anniversary of Castro's Dec. 2, 1956, invasion that led eventually to the overthrow of dictator Fulgencio Batista. Commentators handled the event in routine fashion, contrary to the hoopla of other years.

Anti-Americanism remains the big hard-sell item on both radio and television. Anti-Castro Cuban raiders are always identified as "brutal CIA agents." Cubans felled by counter-revolutionaries were victims of "Yankee imperialist agents."

NOTHING LEFT

The way it comes over radio and television now, the revolutionary litany has a hollow mechanical ring; it lacks the old sound and fury of deep-down conviction.

Says a Cuban exile: "They're tired and, besides that, they've used up the entire dictionary of scurrilous abuse. There's really nothing left to say."

Calypso Singers Regale Kennedy And Macmillan

By FRANK CORMIER

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — President Kennedy popped in at a cocktail party Tuesday night while Prime Minister Macmillan dropped in on a barbecue—and drank beer.

Nassau's reception for the two world leaders also included a calypso salute at the beach barbecue.

Kennedy wasn't there, but the British prime minister smiled and studied the printed lyrics as calypso singer Count Bernadino sang.

"Welcome, welcome Macmillan and Kennedy.

"Your visit to Nassau will go down in history."

JFK VISITS PARTY

The social forays by Kennedy and Macmillan were unscheduled.

Kennedy ventured forth first, making a handshaking circuit of the guests at a poolside cocktail party given for correspondents covering the conference. The President stayed about 10 minutes.

Macmillan turned up nearly two hours later at a barbecue on the white sands of the Emerald Beach Hotel, where many members of the official parties and newsmen are staying.

He watched native dancers enact a couple of playlets called "Stone Cold Dead in The Market" and "She Killed Nobody But Her Husband."

CALYPSO CLIMAX

The climax came when Count Bernadino sang his special calypso.

"To Mr. Kennedy greetings and

A Lovelier You

PARTY-PRETTY HANDS. Improperly cared for hands never seem quite so showprow as when a woman is dressed in her party best. Then, if ever, comes the moment of truth for the hands. Even small flaws, against the backdrop of the costume, are somehow magnified.

Other than a perfect manicure, the secret of party-pretty hands is meticulous day-to-day attention. But that knowledge is of no help to a backslider on an occasion evening. What's needed then are quick aids to lovelier hands. The most effective ones follow:

To overcome chap and redness, brush-scrub the hands and, while still sudsy, massage with beauty grains. Rinse well and dry vigorously. Now soak hands in warmed hand lotion for 10 minutes and gently tissue it off.

If the fingertips and knuckles are discolored, remove the stains by applying a thick lather of soap and then massaging with a slice of lemon. The problem of those who wear clear polish—yellowed nail tips—is solved by lining the undersides with soap and hydrogen peroxide. This is most easily done with a cotton swab.

For a split nail, stemming either from negligence or accident, the readily available remedy is a patch made of a silver of cigarette paper or absorbent cotton. To apply it you remove any polish, cover the nail with base coat, press on the patch, allow five minutes for drying time and then cover with enamel.

If further enhancement is needed, smooth the backs of the hands with waterproof body makeup and massage the palms with cologne. Those pale hands of song and story won't hold a candle to yours.

Do you have a hand problem? Send today for LOVELIER HANDS, a booklet that covers every step in a quest for hand beauty. It tells how to keep the skin and nails groomed; how to overcome weak nails, polish chips, discolored knuckles, prominent veins, wrinkles; how to use the hands with poised grace. To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller, Box 158, The Gettysburg Times, Dundee, Ill., enclosing a large self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin.

MAY GIVE TAX DEDUCTION ON CUBAN DRUGS

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kennedy administration is considering giving drug manufacturers a $25-million tax deduction on medicines donated for the proposed Cuban prisoner exchange.

Administration sources said that if this deduction is granted, it would be based on the wholesale value of drugs assembled for shipment to Cuba if Fidel Castro released 1,113 captives of the ill-fated 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion. The retail value of the drugs is $52 million.

The tax deduction proposal was worked out within the administration after key members of Congress had made it clear they would not go along with the direct use of federal funds for the payment of what they called ransom. Previously the administration had unsuccessfully sought clearance of influential members of the House and Senate appropriations committee to put up $13.5 million in available Central Intelligence Agency funds to pay for medical supplies.

It was stressed in administration quarters that the tax deduction proposal awaits final, official approval.

Among other things, a ruling will be required by the Internal Revenue Service that the contributions are deductible.

It is the assumption in Washington that Castro will accept the retail price of the drugs as payment against the $62 million he has demanded for the release of the prisoners. Food could make up the remainder.

SOME FUNDS RAISED

The Cuban Families Committee has raised an undisclosed amount of funds.

The administration has taken pains to conceal the extent of its role in attempting to win release of the prisoners.

The official line has been, as President Kennedy told his news conference last week, that a Woman Dies, Two Injured In Blaze

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Fire swept a house in South Philadelphia Wednesday killing Mrs. Thelma Smith, 26.

Her husband, David Smith, and another resident, Samuel Dawson, were injured when they jumped from upper floors of the burning structure. Eleven persons in an adjacent house were routed by the threat of fire.

Policemen said after Smith fell, and lay on the pavement, he shouted, "Help my wife, she's trapped."

She suffered shoulder, back and leg injuries. Dawson suffered leg injuries.

Cause was unknown.

private committee was handling the matter and he was "sympathetic" with its objectives. No body familiar with the details thinks, however, that the tax deduction suggestion originated with the drug manufacturers.

TOP MILITARY CHECKS CONGO AT UN REQUEST

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A high-level U.S. military mission was dispatched to U.N. headquarters Wednesday to begin carrying out a White House promise of new military equipment to beef up the U.N. force in the Congo.

A U.N. spokesman said the mission, led by Lt. Gen. Louis Truman, would go to the Congo after conferring with Secretary-General U Thant, who has warned that the U.N. will exert all pressures short of shooting to end the secession of Katanga Province.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson conferred with Thant for nearly two hours Tuesday night on the explosive Congo situation. He said the United States acted at the secretary-general's behest. TO ADD TRANSPORTS Informed sources said the U.S. contribution would consist mainly of air transport equipment.

"The United States has been doing all it could for a long time to support the U.N. operation in the Congo," Stevenson told newsmen. "This request from the secretary-general for new equipment is only a further step in the program for moral support."

Stevenson said he knew nothing about possible use of U.S. troops in the Congo or about any new Soviet power bid in the divided African nation.

U.S. sources at the Bahamas meeting of President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan said U.S. leaders fear a new Kremlin attempt to extend Soviet influence into the Congo if the continued secession of Katanga results in the fall of Premier Cyrille Adoula's moderate central Congo government.

The sources in Nassau said Truman's group will survey the military situation in the Congo as well as the equipment needs of the

U.N. force. SEEK UNITY

Thant's call for U.S. aid came as the chief of his Congo mission, Robert K. A. Gardiner, hastened to U.N. headquarters to discuss the explosive situation caused by attempts to bring Katanga and the central government together.

The U.N. has more than 18,000 troops in the Congo, but India wants to pull out her contingent of more than 5,000 because of her border conflict with Red China. Troops of the big powers have been barred from the U.N. Congo force so far to prevent the area becoming a cold-war battle ground. Truman, 54, a cousin of former president Harry S. Truman, is a 1932 graduate of West Point.

He has been a member of the Pentagon's top strategic planning group and head of the military advisory mission in Pakistan.

Governor Lights Last Xmas Tree

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Lawrence, officially participating at his last Christmas tree lighting ceremony as governor, wished all Pennsylvanians Wednesday "a happy and meaningful Christmas season and a provident New Year."

"It is only natural," Lawrence said, "that we should celebrate the birth of Our Lord with the lighting of candles and brilliant trees, for He was the light shining in darkness and it is His love that shall one day illuminate the world."

The ceremony was in the State Capitol Rotunda, where the official state tree is located. The half-hour ceremony featured the combined choruses of local high schools singing Christmas Carols.

TOP MILITARY CHECKS CONGO AT UN REQUEST

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — A high-level U.S. military mission was dispatched to U.N. headquarters Wednesday to begin carrying out a White House promise of new military equipment to beef up the U.N. force in the Congo.
A U.N. spokesman said the mission, led by Lt. Gen. Louis Truman, would go to the Congo after conferring with Secretary-General U Thant, who has warned that the U.N. will exert all pressures short of shooting to end the secession of Katanga Province.
U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson conferred with Thant for nearly two hours Tuesday night on the explosive Congo situation. He said the United States acted at the secretary-general's behest.
TO ADD TRANSPORTS
Informed sources said the U.S. contribution would consist mainly of air transport equipment.
"The United States has been doing all it could for a long time to support the U.N. operation in the Congo," Stevenson told newsmen. "This request from the secretary-general for new equipment is only a further step in the program for moral support."
Stevenson said he knew nothing about possible use of U.S. troops in the Congo or about any new Soviet power bid in the divided African nation.
U.S. sources at the Bahamas meeting of President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan said U.S. leaders fear a new Kremlin attempt to extend Soviet influence into the Congo if the continued secession of Katanga results in the fall of Premier Cyrille Adoula's moderate central Congo government.

The sources in Nassau said Truman's group will survey the military situation in the Congo as well as the equipment needs of the U.N. force.
SEEK UNITY
Thant's call for U.S. aid came as the chief of his Congo mission, Robert K. A. Gardner, hastened to U.N. headquarters to discuss the explosive situation caused by attempts to bring Katanga and the central government together.

The U.N. has more than 18,000 troops in the Congo, but India wants to pull out her contingent of more than 5,000 because of her border conflict with Red China. Troops of the big powers have been barred from the U.N. force so far to prevent the area becoming a cold-war battlefield.

Governor Lights Last Xmas Tree
HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Lawrence, officially participating at his last Christmas tree lighting ceremony as governor, wished all Pennsylvanians a "happy and meaningful Christmas season and a provident New Year."
"It is only natural," Lawrence said, "that we should celebrate the birth of Our Lord with the lighting of candles and brilliant trees, for He was the light shining in darkness and it is His love that shall one day illuminate the world."

The ceremony was in the State Capitol Rotunda, where the official state tree is located. The half-hour ceremony featured the combined choruses of local high schools singing Christmas Carols.

SLAYS WIFE AND SUICIDES

HARRISBURG (AP)—Police reported Wednesday a man shot his wife to death with a deer rifle, then took his own life, with the same weapon.

Police Chief Allen R. Clark said the shooting occurred about 11:40 p.m., Tuesday. Clark said Nevin Piper Clapp, 42, shot his wife, Ruby, 40, twice with the .32 caliber rifle in the couple's three-bedroom home in Hampden Twp.

Clark said the bodies were discovered by H. Earl Foust, who rents an apartment in the basement of the Clapp home.

Foust told police he heard a

Gabriel, "No Room at the Inn," "Silent Night," "Christmas Hymn," "What Child Is This?" "Joy to the World," "Carol of the Bells," "The Night Before Christmas," and "We Wish You a Merry Christmas."

The Rhythmettes sang "White Christmas." Jesse Stoner was narrator of the verses from the Bible.

On December 14 the Turse Shortland Aptitude Test was given to 10th and 11th Grade students who desire to take short-hand next year.

Indiana Man Dies In Turnpike Crash

Officials at Carlisle Hospital identified the victim as Richard Allen Aughe, Frankfort, Ind. No age was given. Four other persons in Aughe's car were reported injured in the crash.

All were taken to Carlisle Hospital.

Police said the five apparently were enroute from Princeton, N. J., to their home.

shot as he drove up to the house. Police said Clapp fired at least 12 shots as he apparently chased his wife through the house. She had been shot through the left shoulder and left leg. The leg wound severed an artery which Clark said may have caused her to bleed to death. Clapp, a gasoline station operator, shot himself in the chest.

The couple are survived by sons, Donald F. and Richard M., both with the Air Force in Germany.

Texas leads the nation in the number of counties. The Lone Star state has 254. Next comes Georgia with 159. Kentucky is third with 120 counties.

SCRANTON IS EXPECTED TO FIGHT ROADWAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several persons from southeastern Pennsylvania opposing the so-called "Blue Route" of the proposed Delaware Expressway say their hopes in opposing the route lie with Gov.-elect William Scranton.

Members of the group said they want to meet as soon as possible with Scranton to discuss their own proposals for the $57 million highway. The route they want is further west than the proposed "Blue Route."

The group was in Washington to meet with Undersecretary of Commerce Clarence D. Martin and Commissioner Rex M. Whitton of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads. Members of the group said Martin authorized them to say he was interested in any comments or suggestions from the new administration when it takes over.

Sheridan Baketel of Hartford Township, a vice president of the Delaware Citizens Council, said he talked briefly with Scranton on Dec. 10. "He said he was still opposed to the route . . . and said we would have his support at this meeting."

According to Robert B. Miller, Delaware County representative to the Penn-Jersey Transportation Study, the route proposed by the group would start in the vicinity of Flower Street in Chester and run west to a point beyond Media and north to a junction with the Pennsylvania Turnpike just west of the Valley Forge Interchange.

CONVICTED FOR URGE TO KILL

NEW YORK (AP)—James Mullooly, who believed he had "a divine calling" to kill his spinster sister's employer because he suspected they were having an affair, was convicted Wednesday of second degree murder.

Mullooly, 41, a gray-haired accountant, shot and mortally wounded oil executive Taylor S. Gay last June 11 as Gay stood in a New York terminal of the Hudson & Manhattan Railroad.

The 55-year-old vice president of the Phillips Petroleum Co. had escorted Mullooly's sister, Mary, 42, to the terminal following one of a series of occasional dinner dates described by Miss Mullooly as purely platonic. The woman, who worked as Gay's secretary, was returning to the Jersey City, N.J., home she shared with her brother.

Mullooly testified he felt responsible for his sister.

He found himself plagued with the idea that the relationship between Gay, who was estranged from his wife, and Miss Mullooly was more than casual.

"I prayed for guidance," testified Mullooly.

An all-male jury deliberated for nearly 12 hours before bringing in

NASSAU TALKS CONTINUING

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—President Kennedy confronted Prime Minister Macmillan Wednesday with the possibility of a dangerous new Soviet-sparked crisis in Africa's Congo.

The U.S. and British government chiefs plunged into two days of study of complex cold war problems under a cloud of gloom generated by a deep British-its verdict.

American controversy over the future of the Skybolt missile.

U.S. leaders reportedly feel there is a very real danger of a renewed Soviet thrust into the Congo should the crisis generated by the secession of rich Katanga Province lead to the collapse of the moderate Leopoldville government.

The British did not appear to be as concerned as their American allies about the Congo prospects. One of Kennedy's aims at this meeting in this sun-splashed British island resort was to emphasize to Macmillan U.S. views of what might be done to defend the Congo against any new Soviet attempt at penetration.

A U.N. spokesman announced

Tuesday night that the United States is sending an eight-man military mission headed by Lt. Gen. Louis W. Truman, a cousin of former President Harry S. Truman, to the Congo to survey the military needs of the U.N. force there prior to the supplying of more American equipment to the U.N. troops.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Head football coach George Makris of Temple University has been signed to a new three-year contract, Temple announced Tuesday.

There had been persistent reports since Temple ended its 3-6 season that Makris would be replaced, but a university spokesman said there never had been any doubt about the contract.
